IC 814 series row: Netflix content head summoned

The Netflix series on the 1999 hijacking of an Indian Airlines flight triggered an uproar over Hindu names of two of the hijackers. Several social media users claimed the makers of IC 814: The Kandahar Hijack changed the names of the hijackers to 'Shankar' and 'Bhola' to play down their Muslim identity. Many also criticised the series for its "humane projection" of the terrorists. Sources said the I&B Ministry will seek an explanation from the content head of Netflix India | P9

RSS backs caste census, but with a rider

SHYAM P V @Palakkad

IN a clear message to the BJP which is yet to declare its stance on the contentious caste census issue, the RSS said on Monday that it has no objection to collecting data on specific communities or castes to ensure effective delivery of social welfare schemes. However, the Sangh Parivar fountainhead added a rider: "Don't use the census data as a political tool."

The RSS statement comes amid extensive campaigning by the opposition parties led by the Congress seeking a nationwide caste census.

Addressing the media after Samanway Baithak, a three-day national coordination conclave, in Kerala's Palakkad, RSS publicity in-charge Sunil Ambekar said: "The RSS thinks that for all welfare activities, particularly those targeting such communities or castes which are lagging behind… if the government needs the numbers, it is a well-established practice. But it should be done only for the welfare of those communities and castes. It should not be used as a political tool for elections. So we put this forth with a line of caution for everyone."

As a Hindu society, caste and caste relations are sensitive issues in India, he said. "It is an important issue for our national unity and integrity. The RSS and our affiliated organisations have always kept the national interest first. So, the caste census should be dealt with very sensitively and not on the basis of elections or electoral practices and politics," he added.

Ambekar said the Sangh Parivar organisations have noticed a large number of religious conversions in Tamil Nadu by missionaries. "It's very worrisome. We will conduct a ground study and formulate a strategy," he added.

The conclave condemned the rape and murder of a female doctor in a Kolkata hospital. It was necessary to revisit laws and penal actions to expedite swift justice for women who suffer atrocities, he said.

Governor seeks explanation from govt on land allotted to Kharge trust

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

GOVERNOR Thaawarchand Gehlot has sought an explanation from the state government on allotment of a five-acre plot at the aerospace park on the outskirts of Bengaluru to a trust run by AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge's family.

Speaking to reporters on Monday, Rural Development and Panchayat Raj and IT,BT Minister Priyank Kharge confirmed that the governor has written to chief secretary Shalini Rajneesh seeking details regarding allotment of land to the trust.

When petitions against Congress leaders are submitted, the governor acts at lightning speed. But he goes slow on petitions received against BJP and JDS leaders, he alleged.

BJP leaders, including Leader of Opposition in the Legislative Council Chalavadi Narayanaswamy, have questioned the allotment of land to the trust run by Kharge's family.

Narayanaswamy recently alleged that the government had hurriedly alloted five acres of land to the trust in violation of rules and regulations. He appealed to the governor to direct Chief Minister Siddaramaiah to drop Priyank Kharge from his cabinet.

However, the CM and his cabinet ministers have defended the allotment of land to the trust. "Why is Chalavadi speaking only against Congress leaders and not against those from other parties? The RSS and BJP want to see the Dalits divided," Kharge said.

Ahead of polls, Cabinet OKs seven farm schemes

Manmad-Indore rail line and new semiconductor plant get approval

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@New Delhi

The semiconductor plant by Kaynes will come up in 46 acres in Sanand. It is a big plant and a large portion of the production will go for Kaynes Industries

—Ashwini Vaishnaw, minister

AHEAD of the crucial Haryana and J&K elections, the Centre on Monday approved seven new schemes to improve farmers' lives and increase their incomes with a total outlay of ₹14,235.30 crore. As for Maharashtra, which will go to polls in the next few months, the Union Cabinet approved a new Railway line between Mumbai's Malad and Indore covering 309 km at a cost of ₹18,036 crore.

The Centre also approved a proposal of Kaynes Semicon Pvt Ltd to set up a semiconductor unit in Sanand, Gujarat.

The seven schemes for the farmers are Digital Agriculture Mission, Crop Science for Food and Nutritional Security, Strengthening Agricultural Education, Management and Social Sciences, Sustainable livestock health and production, Sustainable development of Horticulture, Strengthening of Krishi Vigyan Kendra and Natural Resource Management.

Briefing the media, Information & Broadcasting Minister Ashwini Vaishnaw said, the objective of the Digital Agriculture Mission is to create a digital database related to soil profile, digital crop estimation, and yield modelling.

"It also facilitates crop loans with use of modern technologies like AI and big data and helps connect farmers with buyers and bring new knowledge on mobile phones." The scheme on Crop Science for Food and Nutritional Security, with a total outlay of ₹3,979 crore, would prepare farmers for climate resilience and provide for food security by 2047.

As for the railway line between Manmad and Indore, the project will require more than a crore human days and will be completed in the next eight years. It is expected to significantly enhance connectivity across key regions in Maharashtra and MP, Vaishnaw said.

"Manmad-Indore rail line will currently be built as single track, but it is being designed in such a way that in future it would easily be converted into double line," he said. "The project will generate 12 lakh employment. We are looking at connecting it to the hinterland in Maharashtra, MP, and UP."

Guidelines soon on bulldozer justice, says SC

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY
@New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Monday questioned the practice of 'bulldozer justice' in some states, wherein properties of the accused or those convicted in criminal cases are demolished, saying even if a person is convicted, his or her property cannot be demolished without following the procedure prescribed by the law.

The top court said it will soon lay down guidelines on the issue. "How can anybody's house be demolished just because he is an accused? Even if he is a convict, it (house) can't be demolished. Even after telling SC Bar, we don't find any change in attitude," a two-judge bench comprising justices B R Gavai and K V Viswanathan said.

The bench was hearing a joint petition filed by Jamiat Ulama-e-Hind and others seeking directions to various state governments to ensure no further demolition of properties of those accused in cases of rioting and violence takes place.

Senior advocate Chander Uday Singh, appearing for one of the petitioners, said even properties rented out have been demolished. He highlighted that some houses were destroyed because the tenant was involved in a criminal case.

Solicitor General Tushar Mehta, appearing for UP, referred to an earlier affidavit filed by the state. Mehta said the state has said that demolition of immovable property can take place "only for violation of and in accordance with the procedure prescribed in the respective applicable municipal law or law governing development authorities of the area".

The court said, "You are saying demolition only if violation of municipal laws. There is a need for guidelines, it needs to be documented."

Nitesh Kumar wins gold at the Paralympics

WHEN KARGIL SOLDIERS HELP NITESH PLAY

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

ON that fateful Sunday in 2009, Vijender Singh's world came crashing down when he received a call from 108 (emergency number). His only son, Nitesh Kumar, had lost his left leg in a train accident in Visakhapatnam, Andhra Pradesh. A junior commissioned officer with the Indian Navy, Vijender saw his son bedridden for the next six months and life lost meaning.

Motivation came from unexpected quarters — amputee soldiers of the Kargil War — during a visit to the Artificial Limb Centre in Pune, where the soldiers were playing. "I kept him motivated during that period but the Kargil War amputee soldiers helped me out," Vijender told this daily. "Nitesh saw them playing and he joined in after some time." Nitesh was 15 then.

Those six months left an indelible mark on Nitesh, who not only went on to clear the IIT entrance test and completed electrical engineering from IIT Mandi, Himachal Pradesh but also became a para-shuttler.

On Monday, at the Paris Paralympics, Nitesh won gold in para-badminton. He defeated Great Britain's Daniel Bethell in a gripping men's singles SL3 final. With the win, India retained the SL3 gold, which Pramod Bhagat had won three years ago when badminton made its Paralympic debut in Tokyo. It was also Nitesh's first win over Bethell in the previous 10 attempts.

"I still don't feel it. Maybe when I go to the podium and the national anthem is played, it will sink in," Nitesh said after the match which lasted an hour and 20 minutes, with the final scoreline reading 21-14, 18-21, 23-21. The SL3 category is reserved for players with severe lower limb disabilities and the matches are played on a half-width court. P17

FARMERS HIT

Union slashes milk purchase price by ₹1.5/L

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

PROFITS of farmers are likely to shrink with Raichur, Bellary & Koppal Districts Cooperative Milk Producers' Societies Union Ltd (RBKMUL) reducing the milk procurement price by Rs 1.50 per litre.

The decision was taken a few days ago. The other milk unions in the state are expected to take a similar decision in the coming days. The reason for this is fluctuations in the rates of skimmed milk powder and butter in the global market.

A senior official from Karnataka Milk Federation (KMF) said, "The procurement price has been slashed by Rs 1.50 for a litre of milk procured from Ballari, Koppal, Raichur and surrounding areas. It is based on the profit and losses balance sheet. The RBKMUL is unable to make up for losses amounting to Rs 3 crore. As we were unable to increase the milk price, it was inevitable to reduce the procurement cost."

The official said the same will be done by other unions also in the coming days. Reduction in procurement cost will depend on the balance sheet. It could vary from 50 paise to even Rs 2 per litre. The rate will also vary depending on the facilities set up by the unions such as ice-cream making unit, where excess milk, skimmed milk powder and other products will be absorbed to manage the costs. Although the decision to reduce the procurement rate was taken after holding the board meeting, it has not gone down well with the farmers, who are crying foul over the losses they will incur. P4

THE Karnataka Public Service Commission (KPSC) will conduct the preliminary examination again within two months in view of some translation errors in the question paper of the exam held on August 27 to fill 350 posts of gazetted probationary officer.

Chief Minister Siddaramaiah issued an order on Monday in this regard and directed the KPSC officials to act against those responsible for errors in translation.

Meanwhile, BJP members slammed the government for its "negligence" in the conduct of the KPSC examination. "The re-examination will be conducted with utmost responsibility and accountability. Those responsible for the errors have been relieved of their duties," the CM posed on X. P4

GI impact: Vijayapura farmers sell 5L lemon saplings

FIROZ ROZINDAR @Vijayapura

SAPLINGS of Vijayapura lemon are in great demand with its Kagzi variety getting geographical indication (GI) tag three years ago.

Farmers of Vijayapura district have sold five lakh saplings so far this year, according to officials of the Horticulture Department. Vijayapura is the largest lemon growing district in the state and more than 50% of production comes from Indi taluk in the district.

The officials said usually the saplings are bought by farmers from Vijayapura, Kalaburagi, Bagalkot, Raichur, Dharwad and Belagavi districts. But with Vijayapura lemon getting the GI tag, farmers from Solapur, Pandharpur and Usmanabad in Maharashtra and from some districts in Andhra Pradesh and Tamil Nadu have started thronging the nurseries in the district to buy the saplings.

With the demand for saplings increasing, several farmers in the district, especially from Indi taluk, have reserved most of their land for lemon nurseries.

The saplings are now being sold for Rs 13 (one-year-old), Rs 25 (two-year-old and Rs 100 for bigger ones.

Rahul Bhavidoddi, Deputy Director of Horticulture, said the Krishi Vigyan Kendra of Indi organises workshops and awareness programmes periodically for farmers on raising lemon saplings and marketing them.

Bail for Kejriwal's aide in Maliwal assault case

NEW DELHI: The Supreme Court on Monday granted bail to Delhi CM Arvind Kejriwal's aide Bibhav Kumar in the Swati Maliwal assault case, noting that he has been in custody for over 100 days. A bench of Justices Surya Kant and Ujjal Bhuyan also took into account that the prosecution has proposed to examine over 51 witnesses and said the trial will take time. It also noted that since the chargesheet has been filed, Kumar's release will not cause any prejudice to the investigation.

EASY BUILDING PLAN APPROVAL SCHEME UNVEILED ACROSS CITY

DCM says plans for buildings in sites up to 50X80 sqft can be uploaded online

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

DEPUTY Chief Minister and Bengaluru Development Minister DK Shivakumar on Monday announced the launch of 'Nambike Nakshe', an online building plan approval process for the construction of buildings in sites up to 4,000 sqft in Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike limits. Earlier in March, the scheme was launched on a pilot basis at two wards, one each in RR Nagar and Dasarahalli zones.

Shivakumar said, "The 'Nambike Nakshe' scheme allows owners to get a provisional building plan with an approval by an authorised architect or engineer uploaded online for the final approval by the BBMP. This will be applicable for constructions on all sites up to 50x80 sqft."

The initiative eliminates the painful process of running around BBMP offices to get the sanction for building plans. "Nambike Nakshe is a trust-based system, in which architects and engineers are empowered to self-declare the plan online and obtain the sanction by paying specified fees. BBMP engineers will inspect at later stages," he said. On the pothole issue, he said that as many as 2,795 potholes have been identified and officials have been given a 15-day deadline to fill them up. "The repair of main thoroughfares will be taken up at Rs 660 crore," he said.

He mentioned the Palike's plan to build roads along stormwater drains. "No construction can be taken up in a radius of 50 metres along Raja Kaluves as per NGT regulations. We have identified 300 km of such areas where a 30 ft road will be built along Raja Kaluves. The land owners will be compensated with Transferable Development Rights (TDR), which they can sell in lieu of land. The lands have been identified around Hebbal, Nagavara, Bellandur and Bengaluru South. 100 km of roads will be taken up in the first phase. These roads are not for buses, but for other vehicles. Rs 200 crore has been allocated for this. It was discussed in the cabinet too," he added.

PIC: NAGARAJA GADEKAL

Meanwhile, the BBMP revenue department has listed 2,64,228 tax defaulters as on September 2. These defaulters did not pay despite BBMP extending One Time Settlement of tax arrears with interest scheme till September 30. The amount due is Rs 472.77 crore.

Suburban Rail: Niti Aayog approached for funds

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

WITH repeated tenders for the supply of 306 coaches for the Bengaluru Suburban Rail Project (BSRP) not getting any successful bidder, the nodal agency for implementing the project -- Rail Infrastructure Development Enterprises Karnataka (K-RIDE) -- has approached the Centre's think tank, Niti Aayog, seeking permission to adopt an equity funding model.

K-RIDE has asked whether the cost of Rs 3,672 crore for the AC coaches can be borne equally by the Central and state governments.

Sources told TNIE, "It was discussed with Railway Minister Ashwini Vaishnaw and Minister of State for Railways V Somanna when they visited Bengaluru on Sunday. They responded positively. It was also discussed with Niti Aayog Vice-Chairman Suman Bery during a meeting at Vidhana Soudha last week. K-RIDE has been asked to send a formal proposal."

The procurement of coaches for Suburban Rail has been delayed enormously. "We finally cancelled the tender last month after repeated attempts. We have decided to give up the Public-Private Partnership model and go for the equity funding pattern," another source said.

On tendering, he said, "We first called for tenders in two stages for supply of coaches. During the first round on June 8, 2023, the technical round, three agencies Bharat Earth Movers Ltd, Bharat Heavy Electricals Ltd and Spanish firm Construccionnes y Auxiliar de Ferrocarriles (CAF) qualified. The financial tender was called for on December 12, 2023 with three months given to submit their interest. It was then repeatedly extended due to repeated requests from bidders. On July 12, 2024, we cancelled the tender and asked the three companies that qualified in the technical round alone to approach us. After a month, none of them applied. Last month (on August 12), we decided to change the funding model itself and go in for funding from governments only."

Unenthused manufacturers

He said, "It will take up to two years for the first set of coaches to be run on trial and inducted. If the funding is finalised, we can get the coaches from the firms shortly."

On the reasons for lack of enthusiasm among coach manufacturers, an official said, "There are a maximum of eight manufacturers globally. They need to obtain funding from a bank for manufacturing them and K-RIDE will pay them every month with coaches paid for every hour of usage. It will take them up to 30 years to get back their investment."

Another issue was that banks wanted the state and central governments to stand guarantee for the loan obtained by the bidders, but both the governments were reluctant.

Charaka Super Speciality Hospital reopens after 3 yrs

BENGALURU: After a gap of more than three years, the Charaka Super Speciality Hospital, affiliated to the Atal Bihari Vajpayee Medical College and Research Institute, reopened on Monday. Initially launched as a 150-bed Covid facility during the pandemic, the hospital was forced to shut down within its first year, due to staff shortages. Chief Minister Siddaramaiah inaugurated the facility, with Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar and Medical Education and Skill Development Minister Dr Sharan Prakash Patil. Emphasising the importance of providing high-quality healthcare services to the poor, Siddaramaiah assured that the hospital would deliver care on par with private facilities, which many economically disadvantaged individuals cannot afford. He highlighted the government's commitment to expanding healthcare infrastructure across Karnataka. "In 2016-17, we initiated plans to establish super specialty hospitals in Mysuru, Kalaburagi, Belagavi, and Bengaluru's Shivajinagar. However, when the BJP came to power, these projects were stalled," he stated. The Charaka Hospital will provide services in cardiology, nephrology, urology, and plastic surgery. To support these offerings, a mix of newly recruited permanent resident doctors and staff diverted from Victoria and Jayadeva hospitals have been brought on board. ENS

BJP MPs Tejasvi Surya and PC Mohan speak to commuters aboard a Metro train, from KR Pura to Nadaprabhu Kempegowda station, on Monday | VINOD KUMAR T

City MPs hop on Metro, listen to commuters' woes

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

HASSLED commuters getting squeezed during peak hours on platforms and Metros got a chance to pour out their woes when Bangalore Central MP PC Mohan and Bangalore South MP Tejasvi Surya took a ride on the Purple Line from K R Pura to Nadaprabhu Kempegowda station (Majestic) on Monday evening. The objective was to get first hand info from commuters on their travel experience.

The need to increase the frequency of trains was a common complaint from commuters as they face hardships inside jam-packed trains. The official response was that trains could be run at a 3-minute frequency during peak hours only after the existing 57 trains sets are augmented by more trains sets by next year.

Among those who came on board the train just to meet the MPs was Lavanya Sanjay, an IT professional. She appealed for the special loop train presently run between Mysuru Road and Garudacharpalya to be extended up to Pattandur Agrahara. "I use the Metro daily for work. Though the train up to Garudachapalya helps us, trains running up to Pattandur are jam-packed. We still end up waiting at the platforms missing on a few trips," she said. The MPs assured her it would be done.

Another commuter, Vinutha PS, said Metro trains were arriving only at a ten-minute frequency even during peak hours. "We always keep waiting and we have never seen trains come in a 5-minute frequency during morning or evening hours."

Mohan said that the batch of 21 train sets will start arriving from June 2025. "By the time they are all supplied, present ridership averaging 8 lakh per day will go up by an additional 40%," he said.

Surya felt the signages at Kempegowda Metro station were misleading. "We have received many mails and there are many videos on social media too about the lack of clarity on it. They definitely need to be reviewed," he said.

He added that Bengaluru Metro was studying the platform screen doors (PSDs) being used in Singapore Metro. "As of now, PSDs will be introduced in stations which are congested. Even other Metros in India have them in stations with high footfalls," he said.

Meanwhile, to ease congestion at Kempegowda Interchange Metro station, BMRCL on Monday opened an additional entrance that will help commuters interchange between the Purple Line and Green Line.

Vehicle towing back in Majestic, Gandhinagar

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

FOR the past three days, two towing vehicles have been operating in the city, after a two-and-a-half-year gap. They are operating in the Upparpet traffic police limits, targeting key areas such as Majestic Bus Stand and Gandhinagar, where illegal parking is cause for rampant traffic congestion. As of Sunday, the police have booked 185 vehicles.

Towing of vehicles was banned in the city in February 2022, following public outcry over alleged harassment of motorists by towing vehicle staff. The BBMP, however, recently opened a multi-level parking facility at Freedom Park, while declaring all roads in Gandhinagar as 'No Parking' zones. The police have installed No Parking signboards on Kalidasa Road, Gandhinagar Main Road, and other key neighbourhood streets.

The police said the BBMP officials have provided two towing vehicles and staff for towing operations, with an Assistant Sub-Inspector (ASI) and a constable working together. The police are only collecting the fine amount for wrong parking, which is Rs 500. Before towing vehicles away, they make an announcement, and the ASI must wear a body cam. Currently, the towing fee is not being collected.

A senior officer mentioned that the initiative is primarily to create awareness among motorists about the multi-level parking. "Following BBMP's request, our department is cooperating with the towing vehicle staff provided by them. The expenses of the towing vehicles and staff are covered by the Palike. Vehicles are being towed on 28 roads within the police station limits. The reintroduction of vehicle towing to other parts of the city will be considered once we establish new towing policies," he said.

BBMP contractors stop Palike work over dues

Police detain BBMP contractors, who were on a protest seeking immediate release of their pending dues, in Bengaluru on Monday | EXPRESS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

CIVIL contractors associated with the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) have stopped their work in protest against the Palike's finance department not clearing pending dues since 2021. The contractors stated that 25 per cent of the amount has been withheld by the Palike and hence, announced that they will go on indefinite strike till the funds are released. As hundreds of contractors held a protest and raised slogans, police detained them, and released them later.

KT Manjunath, President of BBMP Working Contractors' Association, said hundreds of contractors took part in the protest at the BBMP head office on Monday, demanding the release of the pending 25 per cent of the outstanding bill. "The deputy chief minister is aware and has also assured that the amount will be released earlier, however, the issue remains unresolved," said Manjunath.

He added that the contractors are in destress due to alleged negligence of officials and political leaders. "Earlier, the total bill amount would be released. The 75 per cent amount released also gets cut further, as 18 per cent GST has to be paid. Many of them have taken huge loans and invested in BBMP work and now have to pay outstanding EMIs. As BBMP is not clearing bills, all work has been stopped," he said, adding that the BBMP is also blaming contractors for rough patches on the road, on which the defective liability period (DLP) ended months ago.

As the contractors raised slogans, Halasuru Gate police detained them at the police ground on Mysuru Road, and released them in the evening. "As we have collectively decided to stop work, the issues of potholes, work on Rajakaluves, road development and others will take a hit," said contractors.

Reacting to the protest, Deputy Chief Minister and Bengaluru Development Minister DK Shivakumar said, "The contractors should not blackmail the government. If one contractor protests, another will take up the work."

03RD September: We are told that our ability to travel vast distances through space is limited by the speed of light. However, we have now managed to slow light down from a speed of 186,000 miles a second to a centimetre a second. In my opinion, though, if we can slow it down to such an extent, and maybe even stop it, then we should be able to speed it up as well.

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Yours is not the only sign that is subject to epic astrological configurations as the planets form and re-form their patterns across your chart. However, right now you have more to learn about personal relation-ships than almost anyone else - and most to benefit.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
There is no real lack of co-operation or consideration on the part of partners, yet it may still be difficult to finalise any long-term plans, largely because the planetary picture is changing so rapidly this week. You're on a long-range cycle of uncertainty, so don't expect instant results.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
It's necessary to say a few more words about your financial situation. In particular, you can expect to gain from new partnerships, especially with members of the female sex, or from investments in the arts. Your most dynamic partnership, though, may still be a secret.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
This period favours domestic repairs and decorations around the home. The emphasis seems to be on luxury and colour rather than on what is necessary for your security or survival. There is so much to gain from a generous gesture, so don't hold back.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
The reason why someone feels that you alone can get them off the hook is that they sense the presence of the wise planet, Jupiter, in a part of your chart that is dedicated to selfless deeds, a truly noble combination. There still seems to be no way to restrict the explosion in your expenses, but a solution will appear soon.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
In your solar chart, the signs of Capricorn and Cancer reveal much about your creative desires in the broadest sense - the wish to express your individuality on the highest level. These celestial signs' importance points you to the deeper significance of your current ambitions.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
It's strange how a state of uncertainty internationally is reflected in changing arrangements in your personal life. The key is the stars' tendency to act on many different levels both in your private affairs and in your environment - and in your community.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
It now seems without question that your planets are pulling you in two directions. Mars is insisting that you get out and about, mixing widely and making new friends, while Venus is urging you to hide yourself away with a chosen loved one, forgetting the cares of the world.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Take extra care when travelling over the next few days, and allow for last-minute changes of plan, probably prompted by close partners. Delays due to mechanical failure seem to be less likely, but there is some other obstacle in the way, perhaps no more than your own lack of confidence.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
We are now entering another major challen-ging phase, during which events that took place months ago may be repeated, though not in exactly the same form. The immediate task now is to put new relationships on a firm footing and fulfil your long-term promises.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
According to one of the greatest astrologers of the last century, the transits you are now experiencing may operate in one of two ways. One is 'vain and idle', the other is 'reckless and revolu-tionary'. You clearly have great scope for stirring up your friends and your environment! Use it wisely!

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Home, family and property matters do not seem to be causing particular concern at the moment, at least not as much as earlier in the year. You may therefore bring your attention to bear on more wide-ranging ambitions, particularly if an emotional tie is under scrutiny.

Major stock investment scams across India; 4 arrested

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Directorate of Enforcement (ED) arrested three persons -- Shashi Kumar M (25), Sachin M (26) and Kiran SK (25) -- on Aug 15 and another person Charan Raj C (26) on Aug 21 in Bengaluru in a case related to cyber investment scams worth over Rs 25 crore, in which innocent persons are being cheated by inducing them to invest in stock markets through fake and fraudulent apps.

"The ED probe is based on FIRs registered by various state police and has so far, traced proceeds of crime of more than Rs 25 crore generated from the scam," stated an ED release on Monday. "All the four accused were involved in incorporation of companies and opening of bank accounts, through which proceeds of crime generated from cyber scams were laundered," it added.

The Special Court, Prevention of Money Laundering Act, Bengaluru remanded them to ED custody for seven days.

According to ED, it has so far conducted 13 searches on various premises, which led to the seizure of various incriminating material, including mobile phones and other digital devices. The ED stated that a victim in Faridabad was cheated of Rs 7.59 crore by the scamsters by inducing her to invest in stocks through fake apps.

In Noida, a businessman was cheated of Rs 9.09 crore by the scamsters who had added him to a WhatsApp group named GFSL Securities official Stock C 80. "He was induced to download an app and made to transfer Rs 9.09 crore to various bank accounts provided by customer care of the app," stated the agency. In Bathinda, a doctor was defrauded of Rs 5.93 crore by inducing him to download the app, GFSL Securities, when he was browsing Facebook for alleged investment in stock markets.

"Similar modus operandi has been adopted by fraudsters in various other FIRs in which victims were lured via various social media platforms, including Facebook, Instagram, WhatsApp and Telegram by giving false promises of high return on their investment, allotment of IPOs through special quota, etc. The scamsters contact various individuals within India via Telegram groups to acquire hundreds of SIM cards illegally. There are various Telegram groups where black marketers provide SIM cards. After activation, these SIM cards are shipped abroad. These SIMs are either linked with the bank accounts of multiple shell companies or used to create and run the WhatsApp accounts for the purpose of defrauding victims," explained the agency.

The ED stated the scamsters incorporated hundreds of shell companies, specifically for acquiring and siphoning off the proceeds of crime generated from these cyber scams. "They use the addresses of co-working spaces to provide a physical/virtual address for the incorporation of these shell companies. Further, during the filing of Form INC-20A (required to be filed on MCA portal for commencement of business by a company), the scamsters submit forged bank statements as proof of share subscription by shareholders. They operate through a network of mule bank accounts which are rented through channels such as Telegram. The proceeds of crime are finally converted into crypto currency and siphoned off abroad to avoid detection and recovery," the ED added.

"The Golden Triangle, located at the intersection of Thailand, Laos and Myanmar, has long been known for illicit activities, including drug trafficking and human trafficking. Indian citizens are lured on the pretext of job offers and trafficked to this Golden Triangle and are being exploited in cyber fraud operations," stated the agency.

2 injured in tree fall accident, recovering

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

TWO of the three family members, who sustained grievous injuries after a 15-year-old road-side tree fell on them while they were travelling in a car, are still undergoing treatment. The two are being treated at Fortis Hospital on the Cunningham Road.

J Nakul, his wife Priyanka and his sister Natasha Bhavani, residing in an apartment on Thanisandra main road, were coming from the Bowring Hospital, when the tree uprooted on their car near Anil Kumble Circle on Sunday evening around 6 pm. Passersby immediately shifted them to the hospital.

The hospital in its statement on Monday said that both the patients were receiving care. The first patient, who sustained head injury and other symptoms is being treated by the specialist team. The second patient, who also had head and neck pain is stable and expected to be discharged soon.

The jurisdictional Cubbon Park traffic police said that no case has been registered yet. The police, however, added that if the victims file a complaint, they will register it against the concerned. "We have written to the BBMP to look into the issue, and check the condition of other trees in the vicinity. The tree must have been uprooted due to the recent rains," the police said.

Govt to regulate nursing college fees, crack down on substandard institutions

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

IN response to growing concerns about excessive fees and inadequate facilities at nursing colleges across Karnataka, the state government has started cracking down on these institutions.

Medical Education and Skill Development Minister Dr Sharan Prakash Patil here on Monday announced that a fee regulatory committee will be constituted to oversee and regulate the fee structure in nursing colleges. It was necessary as a number of students complained about the exorbitant fees causing financial burden.

He also unveiled 'One-Building One-Institution', directing officials to ensure that nursing institutions run nursing courses exclusively. Institutions conducting multiple courses from the same building will risk losing their permission, he warned.

During a review meeting held at Vikasa Soudha, said a five-member committee, headed by the joint secretary of the Medical Education Department, will scrutinise the fees charged by nursing institutions. He instructed officials to withdraw the Essential Certificate and Feasibility Certificate (EC&FC) of colleges found charging beyond the government-prescribed limits.

The government has now set Rs 10,000 as fee for students admitted under the government quota, Rs 1 lakh under the management quota and Rs 1.40 lakh for non-Karnataka students. In all, 35,000 seats are available across 611 nursing colleges in the state.

Dr Patil recently rejected a proposal from nursing college managements to increase fees by 20 percent.

The committee will oversee both BSc Nursing and General Nursing and Midwifery (GNM) diploma programmes.

The minister also directed committee head, Mohammed Moshin, who is the Principal Secretary of Medical Education Department, to arrange a meeting with deputy commissioners (DCs) to inspect the infrastructure and basic facilities at GNM colleges at taluk and district levels, with inspection reports to be submitted within a month.

For BSc Nursing colleges, Dr BL Sujatha Rathod, Director of Medical Education, was instructed to form a panel for inspection and provide a report promptly.

Dr Patil said that many nursing colleges have been found lacking in essential facilities, like adequate teaching and non-teaching staff, libraries, laboratories and hygiene standards, despite charging substantial fees. He stressed that permission for such colleges should be revoked if they are found guilty.

FIRING another salvo at AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge, BJP MP Lahar Singh Siroya alleged that 19 acres of government land was given free to the International Institute of Pali, Sanskrit and Comparative Philosophy in Kalaburgi, run by the Kharge family's Siddhartha Vihara Trust.

The fresh allegation invited a sharp reaction from IT and BT Minister Priyank Kharge, who asked the BJP leader to do his "homework" instead of trying to please his political bosses.

Taking to X, the BJP MP stated, "In March 2014, the Siddaramaiah-led Congress government gave 16 acres of government land on lease for 30 years to the Pali Institute. In a couple of years, an additional 03 acres was added to the 16-acre leased property. Finally, in March 2017, all 19 acres were transferred free of cost to the Kharge family-run Institute by the Siddaramaiah-led Congress government. An important fact is Shri Kharge's son, Shri Priyank Kharge, was a cabinet minister in the then Karnataka government like he is now when the land was granted (sic)."

It came to light recently that the Siddhartha Vihara Trust was granted a 5-acre civic amenities site at an aerospace park near Bengaluru, Siroya stated. He demanded that the transfer of 19 acres and the KIADB land grant of 5 acres should be probed by an independent agency. "Did the Siddaramaiah government come under pressure from Kharge to grant parcels of land to their private trust or was the Congress government in Karnataka trying to please Kharge," he asked.

Rubbishing Singh's allegations, Priyank said, "Looks like your political brokering job isn't doing too well and you need to win favour of your bosses."

In a detailed response to Siroya's allegations, the Congress leader said the International Institute of Pali, Sanskrit and Comparative Philosophy was established by the Department of Human Resources, Government of India, the Siddhartha Vihar Trust represented by the Rashtriya Sanskrit Sansthan (now Central Sanskrit University), New Delhi, and the Department of Higher Education, Government of Karnataka.

The Pali institute was established on February 14, 2014, as a public trust with the deputy commissioner, Kalaburgi, representing the Karnataka government as the author of the trust. "Sixteen acres of land was given on lease for 30 years to the Pali institute by the government. The land is only on lease to the institute and no land was granted. The land and any construction on it is not owned by the Pali institute. The buildings were used by the government during the Covid pandemic and for other activities as and when required by the government," he stated.

The main purpose of the Pali institute is primarily for postgraduate research to increase the intellectual focus on the ancient Pali language, he stated. "Next time @LaharSingh_MP avare spend some time doing some homework, instead of trying to please your political bosses," he posted on X.

In response, the BJP MP said: "Thank you for your long cut-and-paste response to my short post. I have demanded a probe and I stand by it."

CM showed undue advantage in allotting sites, probe must: Advocate

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A senior counsel, representing a complainant fighting against the alleged illegal allotment of sites to the wife of Chief Minister Siddaramaiah by the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA), argued before the Karnataka High Court on Monday that when Siddaramaiah was chief minister in 2017, an undue advantage was shown in passing a resolution in MUDA to allot 14 alternative sites to CM's wife BM Parvathi.

Senior counsel KG Raghavan, representing complainant Snehamayi Krishna, made the submission before Justice M Nagaprasanna, who is hearing a petition filed by Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, challenging the sanction granted by Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot to prosecute him in the MUDA case.

Raghavan pointed out that the scheme of allotting compensatory sites was cancelled immediately after the allotment of 50:50 compensatory sites to CM's wife. The scheme was brought into force by amending rules in 2015 only to favour her. The governor rightly granted sanction for the probe which is necessary since the public confidence is eroding in public administration. It was evident from the fact that the government itself constituted a one-man committee headed by an IAS officer and a commission of inquiry headed by the former judge of the high court, he argued.

He contended that Mylaraiah was the original owner of the land, which was acquired by MUDA and for which the compensatory sites were given to Parvathi. But one Devaraja sought denotification of the land in 1995 and finally it was done in 1998. In 2004, Devaraju, who was not the owner, sold this property to Mallikarjun, Siddaramaiah's brother-in-law, who finally transferred it to Parvathi. There is a needle of suspicion which requires a probe, he added.

Raghavan submitted that the CM's wife was not entitled to sites. Even assuming that she was, it is for only one site measuring 60x40 ft for 3 acres and 16 guntas land in question worth Rs 3.24 lakh but not 14 sites with a 50:50 scheme.

When the judge asked whether there should be an inquiry, Raghavan submitted that let there should be as everything was done to suit the requirement of the CM's wife.

The court adjourned further arguments to September 9 because Advocate General Shashikiran Shetty sought time to argue.

Farmer protest over IP-Aadhaar link tomorrow

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Mysuru/Hubballi

FARMERS across the state have strongly opposed the state government's plan of linking the RR (revenue registration) number of irrigation pumpsets with their Aadhaar number, stating that it's a ploy by the authorities to deny them subsidised power supply.

Farmer forums, including the Karnataka Rajya Raitha Sangha and Hasiru Sene, will hold a state-wide protest opposing the government's move on Wednesday. Karnataka Sugarcane Growers Association president Bhagyaraj said Escoms earlier collected only Rs 23,000 for transformer, electric poles and energising IP sets. However, the scheme has been stopped forcing the farmers to spend Rs 3-4 lakh to get power connections for IP sets. On Wednesday, farmers will stage a protest at the CESCOM office in Mysuru and demand that the government stop the registration.

In Hubballi, sangh district unit president Irappa Kankoli said to draw the attention of the authorities the state-wide protest has been planned. They will hold the protest in front of the Hescom office and submit a memorandum to the government.

CM on 2-day visit to Mysuru, to chair 1st meet of Chamundi Hill authority

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Mysuru

WITH the Karnataka High Court adjourning to September 9 the hearing of his petition challenging the sanction granted by Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot to prosecute him in the MUDA case, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah on Monday arrived in Mysuru on a two-day visit.

Siddaramaiah had cancelled his previous visit to the city as he was caught up with the massive Congress rally to counter the BJP padayatra.

The CM was given a rousing reception by legislators and party functionaries at Mysuru airport. Siddaramaiah will visit the Chamundi Hill temple to offer puja and preside over the first meeting of the Chamundi Hill Development Authority to draw a blueprint for the development of the temple and improving basic amenities.

He will also receive petitions from the general public, hold meetings with the district officers, and interact with party workers. Siddaramaiah will also review preparations for the Dasara festivities and look into the progress of development work at KR Hospital as well as his pet projects like the proposed move to rebuild the Devaraj market building.

It may be recalled that the Mysuru royal family had strongly opposed the government's move to set up the Chamundi Hill Development Authority and had also approached the court.

MUDA ex-chief suspended as Haveri varsity registrar

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

IN a significant development in the Mysore Urban Development Authority (MUDA) site allotment issue, GT Dinesh Kumar, former commissioner of MUDA, has been suspended as registrar of Haveri University. He was appointed to the post just three days ago, despite severe criticism.

The order on suspension of Dinesh Kumar has only proved BJP MLC Adagur Vishwanath right who was the first to raise serious allegations in the MUDA scandal. On Monday, he said, "Mooru janarannu oddhu olage hakabeku (three people need to be put behind bars). One of them is GT Dinesh Kumar. The other two are the current Urban Development Minister Byrati Suresh and former MUDA commissioner B Natesh."

Though the government has continued to deny any wrongdoing, the MUDA scandal has caused a major uproar in the state. The High Court is currently hearing a case filed by Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, challenging Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot's decision to allow his prosecution.

But the suspension of Dinesh has raised questions over whether the government will take action against Byrati Suresh and Natesh.

Dinesh faces allegations of illegally allocating sites and introducing the 50:50 ratio for allocation of sites for land acquired, without informing the MUDA Board. The suspension order specifically mentions that the 50:50 ratio rule he implemented was improper. But it is the same scheme that made Siddaramaiah's wife Parvathi eligible for 14 sites, allotted in lieu of 3 acre 16 gunta of land acquired by MUDA.

Byrathi Suresh is facing serious criticism because he ignored the issue when it was first raised by Congress MLC Sudham Das during the Belagavi Session in December 2023. Suresh is also being blamed because allegations of Dinesh Kumar's misdeeds were brought to his and government's attention multiple times, with suggestions to transfer him on at least three occasions. But each time, both the minister and the government chose to look the other way. Sources said that if Dinesh had been transferred in December 2023, they would not have facing this embarrassment now.

After Natesh's tenure as MUDA commissioner, an upright officer, Kantharaj, took over the position. Kantharaj successfully accumulated 10,000 stray sites for MUDA, which Dinesh Kumar allegedly mismanaged when he became the commissioner.

Didn't get any G-Category site: MB Patil

MEANWHILE addressing reporters, Narayanaswamy alleged that Industries Minister MB Patil was involved in the alleged irregularities in allotment of land to Vaigai Investments Private Limited. In his election affidavit, Patil stated that he had taken a loan of Rs 4 crore from Bagmane Developers.

Eight acres of land at the aerospace park had been allotted to Vaigai, while directors for Vaigai and Bagmane are the same.

Reacting to this, Patil said that he and his family members did not get any G-Category site or industrial/CA plot from KIADB or KHB. "My family shares a close bond with Bagmane Developers. Companies such as Bagmane, Prestige, Brigade Group, Embassy, and Mantri have contributed to the growth of Bengaluru. However, there is no connection between the bond we share at the family level and the decisions made at the government level," Patil said.

Patil said the KIADB allotted land at the aerospace park to Bagmane Developers as per rule. "How can Chalavadi fail to understand such simple facts?" he said.

Dr G may be top choice if CM post falls vacant

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

A recent meeting between Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara and PWD Minister Satish Jarkiholi has led to intense speculation over change in the chief minister's post.

Though Parameshwara was tight-lipped about the specifics of the meeting, there is talk within Congress circles that he could take over as chief minister if Siddaramaiah has to quit over his alleged involvement in the MUDA site allotment issue.

As Congress navigates this uncertain period, several potential leaders have already been ruled out to take over as chief minister. Though AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge was initially considered, a recent controversy over the allotment of a KIADB site to a trust managed by his family has cast a shadow over his candidacy. Industries Minister MB Patil's prospects have also been compromised because of another land-related issue. It is said that Satish Jarkiholi and Social Welfare Minister HC Mahadevappa are not being considered seriously, likely because of their history with JDS. Former KPCC president RV Deshpande on Sunday said he too is interested in taking up the post, but his chances remain slim as he is a Brahmin and there is limited support for candidates from the community from the 136 party MLAs.

It is also significant that Parameshwara and Jarkiholi recently met discontented BK Hariprasad.

Parameshwara, who spent eight years as KPCC president, narrowly missed becoming chief minister in 2013 after he faced an unexpected defeat. His chance could come soon as Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar, who was widely believed to be a successor to Siddaramaiah, is seen being on the defensive.

DKS: Yettinahole to be completed by 2027

Deputy CM DK Shivakumar on Monday said the entire Yettinahole project will be completed by 2027. CM Siddaramaiah will inaugurate the first stage of the project at 12.05 pm on Friday. "The 1st stage of the project will enable pumping water to Vani Vilas Sagar. The remaining 140 km will be completed under the 2nd stage of the project, and it will enable pumping water to Tumakuru," he told media persons. They are planning to lift about 5 tmcft of water by November 1. The pending works are likely to be completed in four months, after which the Tumakuru phase will be completed. ENS

Literacy campaign for GPs kicks off

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE state government's ambitious 'Sakshara Sanmana' (literacy honour) programme, which aims to provide basic literacy skills to those gram panchayat representatives who lack formal education, was launched on September 1.

The initiative by the Rural Development and Panchayat Raj Department will cover 6,346 people, mainly targeting 5,234 elected representatives.

The programme has been designed not only to provide skills, but also to tackle the persistent challenge that significantly impacts Karnataka -- where one in ten of the state's 94,775 elected gram panchayat representatives struggle with basic literacy skills. Of these, 9,357, including 7,277 women, are unable to read or write. So the emphasis of the programme is to give these women the tools they need to participate intelligently in local governance and put forth their will locally, according to a press release.

The programme's major objective is to provide GP representatives with an education in reading, writing and arithmetic.

RDPR Minister Priyank Kharge stressed that the programme aims to ensure that the elected representatives develop the ability to read and comprehend meetings concerning their panchayats, to participate actively in policy-making at the governance level and to encourage active participation of tone in GP meetings and gram/The programme will be carried out in 21 districts from September 1 to October 20. Literacy training daily for two hours, clocking 100 hours across 50 days, will be completed by the participants.

The teachers will receive honorariums, and participants will receive certificates plus an honorarium, said Kharge.

BYV: Welcome decision on KPSC exam

"WE remain committed to upholding the integrity of our recruitment processes," the CM added.

Earlier in the day, RDPR Minister Priyank Kharge said the government had received many complaints over the conduct of the KPSC examination. Those who had appeared for the exam complained that there were errors in some questions translated from English to Kannada.

Yuva Rajkumar, actor and co-founder of Dr Rajkumar Academy for Civil Services, thanked the CM for considering the aspirants' appeal and announcing re-examination. Vinaykumar GB, founder of Insights IAS, said the fight for reforms in the KPSC based on the recommendations of the PC Hota Committee will continue. "We hope you will implement the recommendations and cleanse the KPSC of corruption," he told the CM.

BJP state president BY Vijayendra said the government decided to conduct the re-exam after his party insisted on it. "We welcome this decision,'' he added.

BJP leader booked for sexual assault

Mangaluru: BJP leader Arun Kumar Puthila has been booked for sexually assaulting a 47-year-old Sirsi-based married woman. The woman, currently residing in Puttur, lodged a complaint with the women's police that Puthila had sexually assaulted her in a lodge in Bengaluru in June last year. The woman also alleged that Puthila also took intimate photos and videos and blackmailed her. According to the complaint, the woman started befriended Puthila on social media. He assured her that he will look after her and her daughter, but after the 2024 Lok Sabha elections, he stopped communicating with her. Puthila has been booked under Sections 417 (cheating), 354 (A) (sexual harassment) and 506 of the Indian Penal Code. The woman was subjected to a medical examination on Monday. Puthila told reporters that the complaint was politically motivated and false, and he will fight the case legally. Meanwhile, he appeared before a court in Puttur and was granted bail. ENS

'Milk purchase price may be cut across state soon'

KMF sources said discussions on the matter were being held in unions in Hassan and Mysuru. The official said, "The MRP cannot be reduced or increased without the consent of the state government. The unions, however, have the discretion to reduce the procurement rate based on their boards' decision."

Meanwhile, Union minister Pralhad Joshi on Monday took to X to point out, "While the Union government is striving for the welfare of farmers, the Karnataka government led by Siddaramaiah has cut the milk procurement cost by Rs 1.50. The state government should feel ashamed for claiming that they are pro-farmers and pro-people. I condemn the act of belittling the hard work of farmers from Karnataka."

In June, the KMF increased the milk quantity by 50ml in 500ml and one litre packets while increasing the cost per packet by Rs 2. It took the decision stating that milk production and procurement had increased to one crore litres per day. At present, the procurement is between 95 and 98 lakh litres per day.

1.94L aspirants for 310 forest watcher posts

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka Forest Department has received 1,94,007 applications for 310 vacant posts of forest watchers. The last time the recruitment was done was in 2022-23. According to a senior forest official, all those who have passed Class 10 can apply for the post after which they have to undergo physical and medical examination. The official added while the number of applicants are high, the number of posts created to recruit tribals and forest dwellers has not been met as the number of applicants in this category are less.

Forest, Environment and Ecology Minister Eshwar B Khandre said CM Siddaramaiah willgive away the appointment letters to 267 selected candidates on Tuesday. Forty-three posts will remain vacant as the applications reserved for the section have not been received. There were less applications from Uttara Kannada, Shivamogga, Bengaluru and Chikkamagaluru circles.

The forest official added that the number of applications for the forest department posts have been on the rise, for multiple reasons. However the selection criteria has also been intensified. "There is also an added government criteria of caste certificate, thus many applications get rejected on technical reasons, leading to continuous vacancies. Since these services are permanent posts, contract-based recruitment cannot be done," the official added.

DEATH TOLL IN AP RAINS NOW 17, RESCUE OPS ON

S GURU SRIKANTH @Vijayawada

RESCUE and relief operations are continuing in a full-fledged manner in the flood-affected areas of the erstwhile undivided Krishna and Guntur districts.

Andhra Pradesh Chief Minister N Chandrababu Naidu continues to supervise the rescue and relief operations in the flood-hit areas of Vijayawada from the ground zero.

The toll in rain-related incidents increased to 17 on Monday with two more deaths reported in Guntur district, and three persons were reported missing. Food and water are being distributed to the flood-hit people using boats and helicopters. Choppers are airlifting the people stranded in the inundated areas.

The rescue and relief operations picked up momentum with the joining of additional NDRF teams with relief material by Monday afternoon. SDRF and fire service personnel, police and revenue staff were also engaged in rescue and relief efforts. The government is also trying to dispatch food, water and medicines using drones to the areas unreachable by boats and choppers. A total of 4,48,007 people were affected by floods in Vijayawada and other parts of Andhra Pradesh.

Women's panel chief seeks probe into death of woman

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

BSY POCSO CASE

KARNATAKA State Commission for Women Chairperson Dr Nagalakshmi Chowdhary has sought a thorough probe into the suspicious death of the 54-year-old woman who accused BJP leader and former chief minister BS Yediyurappa of sexually abusing her 17-year-old daughter.

Speaking to The New Indian Express, Dr Nagalakshmi said that she has written to the police chief following complaints from the victim's family and a few women organisations as they have suspicion regarding the woman's death.

"I have sought a report from the police after a thorough probe into the woman's death. Two days before her death, the woman had come to my office to discuss another complaint. She was with me till the evening and did not look ill. She did not say anything about cancer. Two days later, I got to know that she had died of cancer. Her kin had filed a complaint with the Hulimavu police station to probe the exact cause of the death. Her family has expressed doubts over her death. Being the chairperson of Karnataka State Commission for Women, I am answerable to somebody who comes with a grievance. In this regard, the letter has been written," she added.

The letter to City Police Commissioner B Dayananda was written on August 27.

Panel orders safety review of Mullaperiyar within a year

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kochi

IN a major victory for Kerala, the Mullaperiyar Supervisory committee constituted by the Supreme Court accepted the state's demand and ordered to conduct the safety review of the 129-year-old masonry gravity dam within 12 months. The committee will meet after two months to finalise the panel of experts to carry out the review. Kerala has demanded the inclusion of independent experts of international stature in the panel. After constituting the panel, the committee has to frame the terms of reference to initialise the process for safety review.

In Monday's meeting, Kerala insisted on conducting the safety review immediately, while Tamil Nadu argued that it should be allowed to complete the interim strengthening of the dam first. According to TN, the Dam Safety Act of 2021 mandated to conduct safety review of dams once in five years, and the next review is due only in 2026. Kerala argued that the last safety review was done in 2011, and the next review was due in 2021.

In a status report submitted before the SC in 2022, the Central Water Commission had said that the studies by empowered committee concluded that Mullaperiyar dam was found to be hydrologically, structurally and seismically safe. However, it said the safety review of the dam was due in 2021. Kerala toughened its stand on safety review as concerns were raised regarding the strength of the dam after the Wayanad landslides.

BADMINTON NEEDS TO BUILD BENCH STRENGTH AFTER PARIS DEBACLE

IT can be argued that India's biggest disillusionment at Paris 2024 was badminton. Not just because of our track record in the Olympics, but also the stature of the sport in the country. Barring Lakshya Sen, there was nothing to cheer about this time. The celebrated men's doubles pair of Satwiksairaj Rankireddy and Chirag Shetty, double Olympic medallist P V Sindhu and all others faltered.

It's a sport that has given India a medal at every Olympics since the London bronze won by Saina Nehwal. It gave belief to millions to pursue the sport as a serious profession and, just like shooting, boxing and wrestling after the 2008 Olympics, sparked a revolution. Sindhu followed with a silver in Rio and a bronze in Tokyo. Systems were in place with checks and balances. P Gopichand, the coach connected with her success, was at the centre of the revival. Other players improved, too. Taking a cue from the women, the men's team started doing well. Money started to flow into the sport. There were more coaches, support staff and practice partners. One can even say the sport suffered from a largesse that was, by the admission of some top officials, unaccounted for at times.

Things started to change after Tokyo 2020. By Badminton Association of India's own admission, there were times when coaches and officials were kept in the dark about the training and competition schedule. There were instances when, with the help of NGOs, some players competed in events the federation did not want them to. This definitely does not augur well for the sport. The BAI, Sports Authority of India and other stakeholders must work together and not independently. What seemed to be a greater worry is the lack of depth in the men's and women's teams. There has to be a pool of 40 players to work in each category. As of now, India does not have that luxury. Next-gen players have not been good enough to fill in the shoes of Sindhu or Kidambi Srikanth. In doubles, too, India need to find another pair at least as good as Satwik-Chirag. With the next Olympics in Los Angeles just four years ahead, all stakeholders must start the rebuilding process now.

DMK'S EVOLUTION A TIGHTROPE WALK

EVER since the DMK came back to power in Tamil Nadu in 2021, it has focused on countering the anti-Hindu tag a section of its opponents have tried to stick on it. It has appointed P K Sekar Babu as minister for the Hindu religious and charitable endowments department and has touted the government's achievements in retrieving encroached temple land, developing them, raising the pension for their retired staff, and providing aid for the needy through temples. The party has sought to tread a careful line between challenging the version of the religion it believes the BJP presents, and not deviating too far from its own ideological history while espousing inclusiveness and social justice. It is nothing less than a tightwire act, but an essential one given that the electorate is being increasingly wooed by parties on the basis of faith.

Last week, the state's HR&CE department conducted a two-day conference on Lord Muruga. The intent was clearly to establish that the party was not against any religion and that it could celebrate a Hindu deity—especially one considered a Tamil god, one who is mentioned in Sangam literature—and therefore Tamil language and culture. Both Chief Minister M K Stalin and his son Udhayanidhi, who is still not out of the woods for his comments on sanatana dharma, spoke at the conference on a video link. The CM used the platform to stress that the Dravidian model he champions does not place any barrier on beliefs.

The political fallout was swift. Some of the DMK's allies questioned if the secular state government should have conducted such an event and, even if it was conducted by a government department, if senior ministers should have attended. Particularly contentious were the resolutions adopted at the end of the conference, which included the suggestion that hymn recitation contests be held for students of HR&CE-run educational institutions, which are allowed to provide religious instruction. On the other hand, the BJP criticised the conference as being politically motivated. While the modification of the DMK's position will likely make it a more palatable electoral option to a section of voters, a pitfall the party might want to mind is that too much evolution can leave it indistinguishable from some of its opponents.

QUICK TAKE

VELVET GLOVE, NOT IRON FIST

DAYS after Chief Minister Biren Singh promised to restore "full peace" in 6 months, Manipur's faultlines spewed violence again. On Sunday, two people were killed and 10 injured in West Imphal when bombs were dropped from drones and bullets fired. Even Rajkumar Imo Singh, the CM's son-in-law and a BJP MLA, requested Amit Shah to withdraw the 60,000 central forces in the state if they remained "mute spectators". The Centre's query earlier this year whether Kuki-Chin groups should be taken off the Scheduled Tribes list had worked like salt on an open wound. Lasting peace will elude the state if the growing grouses on both sides are not heard and resolved.

With a stream of over-the-top content rushing at us, we are normalising things such as gore, corruption and civic decrepitude. Rural India is part of this transformation too

NORMALISING THE ABNORMAL IN OUR DAILY LIVES

HARISH BIJOOR

SOURAV ROY

WHAT'S news? The classic definition I heard as a kid still resonates in my mind: "When a dog bites a man, that's not news. But if a man bites a dog, it is." This sure is a loaded definition. But whoever said it, said it right.

News is that which is different from the normal. The rarer or less predictable the event, the bigger the news. But does that mean the media are there to just present the bizarre or the unreal? Not really, right?

The new society we live in loves it all the way it is. Today, the modern influences on our lives are focusing on normalising the abnormal. Even glorifying it. In many ways, the modern man, woman and child are brought up on a diet of the abnormal.

The new normal is normalising the abnormal. Gourmandising it. Living in it vicariously.

Let me take you through a path of this thinking we find in abundance in our midst, starting with the most modern of mediums: social media. Take Instagram. I have just emerged from an exploration of a swathe of rural and deep-rural markets in India. The study is still on, but let me throw up some early numbers. The biggest single medium in our rural markets today is Instagram. (It used to be TikTok, till it was told to walk.)

The Insta posts that attract traction in our rural markets are the totally bizarre ones. Posts and Reels in particular that showcase the modern urban Indian are loved the most. Rural and deep-rural folks love to look at the urban Indian as if they are peering into an aquarium. They love to see gym videos. They are aspirational. Many actually use them along with YouTube videos to fashion their own regimen of workout.

And then there are the urban party videos. Our rural folk love to see the clothes we wear to clubs, the way we hold all those colourful drinks. In many ways, the life of the urban Indian is considered an 'adult subject' in rural markets. Our rural folks love to see and live vicariously through these posts, but would never want to do much of it.

For people in Karigiri and Mahiya, watching urban folk on Insta and YouTube is part of normalising the abnormal. It's news to them. It's something rural and deep-rural Indians are engrossed in for as much as 3 hours and 21 minutes a day, as the study shows till now. That's a lot of time.

Let's move to OTT, a revolution started by channels that used newer mediums to get 'over the top' of the standard television channels. OTT discovered to its delight that its audience was not the mass, it was a niche of those tired of television fare transmitted "over the air". They had experimented with cable, which was bolder, and now there is OTT.

In the beginning, these channels explored themes that were bolder than what mass media was able to explore in a nation that would get angry when the content went berserk. Slowly but surely, OTT got bolder. It offered social and political themes, newer dressing styles, coarse language, more gore and even sex.

As one OTT channel outdid another in the quest to grab audience share, the themes got bolder. The more abnormal the theme, the larger the audience. Serials such as Tribhuvan Mishra CA Topper became a hit en route.

We are getting a bit too used to the OTT fare. Now, if some of it happens in real life, we may not think it to be too abnormal. If you disagree with me, at least agree that it is on the way to being normalised. Modern cinema is taking cue from it, as is the politics of the day. Our books have always been different, but then they catered to those who went looking for them.

OTT, cinema and politics are really not similar approaches—they run after people and seek the largest possible exposure for gain, monetary and political.

From a societal point of view, cutting a tree must be a sin of commission. But we are getting used to hearing that thousands of trees are going to be brought down in cities to build flyovers, roads and other allures of modern society. Do we protest it? Very few do. The largest segment has accepted what was abnormal not long ago—they agree trees 'have to be' cut down to put up buildings and roads. The complete removal of ecological sensitivity is part of the game of accepting the abnormal.

Traffic jams are also a new normal. A city is not a city if it does not take an hour to traverse 3 km. A city without pollution is not a metro. Accept it and move on, with soot in your lungs. Removing pollution sensitivity from our psyche is most certainly normalising the abnormal. Removing the hitherto normal will of the person to protest against something abnormal is part of the big game at play. Modern society has done it well.

Look around: a new society is here. We are concerned about very little else but ourselves and our family. Some of us are concerned about our locality. We clear up drains and stillwater collection points to keep dengue away. But that's where it typically stops. All else is part of living.

Just as we are mainstreaming the non-mainstream through our media and marketing efforts, we are equally committing a crime of non-mainstreaming the mainstream.

Is it time to sit up and smell the ditchwater? Have we even stopped smelling air pollution altogether? Have we accepted nasty and dirty politics as a given? Have we accepted corruption as a part of life and business? Have we accepted traffic jams as a part of commute? Have we accepted the guy riding his motorbike on the footpath as a part of living in a traffic-tight city? Have we accepted the neighbours burning garbage and dry leaf every Sunday as part of the new normal?

If we have, I think man bites dog is no more news. We live in the new normal. We have mainstreamed the non-mainstream. In the bargain, we have non-mainstreamed what was meant to be the mainstream.

MODI'S UKRAINE VISIT A FLEXURE IN FUTILITY

KAJAL BASU

Veteran journalist

WHY did Prime Minister Narendra Modi make the side-trip to Ukraine on his two-day visit to Poland? Why did he ignore suggestions from scouts that a visit to Ukraine was inadvisable at that moment? Was it because pressing agreements had to be signed? Or was superpower geopolitics using him as a messenger to forestall a potential global catastrophe?

Consider this. Modi had visited Moscow in early July to a show of camaraderie with Vladimir Putin. Even as a Russian missile struck a children's hospital in Kyiv on the first day of his visit, Putin called him "param dost" (ultimate friend). The optics couldn't have been worse.

Six weeks later, while India was fending off indignation from not only the Western anti-Russian coalition but also Ukraine's Volodymyr Zelenskyy, Putin announced on August 22 that incursive Ukrainian forces had tried to attack the Kursk nuclear power plant at Kurchatov using kamikaze drones. This was a serious escalation, because the Kursk nuclear plant, one of Russia's four largest, is the main node of the country's national energy network. In July 2023, one unit at Kursk was disconnected from the grid following a Ukrainian drone attack. The plant was saved partly because the drones were short-range and carried low-strength thermobaric warheads.

But here's the thing: the two operating reactors at Kursk are from the Soviet era—and of the same design as at Chernobyl, barely 500 km away. If Kursk blows up, it will irradiate a vast landmass. The Kursk plant is located 60 km from the Russia-Ukraine border and less than 50 km from the city of Kursk.

If that happens, Putin, who has so far backed off from a hair-trigger response, might have no alternative but to use tactical nukes. Given that NATO personnel have been photographed hamming while taking selfies during their participation in the Ukrainian storming of the Kursk Oblast that began on August 6, even a one-time use of a battlefield nuke could end in a war nobody wants.

As an op-ed in The Moscow Times said, "The mere possibility of a nuclear plant being seized during a war is a nightmare scenario for any nuclear and radiation safety specialist. But after the almost two-and-a-half-year-long Russian occupation of the Zaporizhzhia nuclear plant and the seizures (again, by Russia) of the Chernobyl exclusion zone and the research reactor in Sevastopol during the occupation of Crimea in 2014, such scenarios have become more possible."

On August 27, after visiting the Kursk plant, International Atomic Energy Agency Director General Rafael Grossi said, "A nuclear power plant of this type so close to a point of contact or military front is an extremely serious fact. The fact we have military activity a few kilometres away from here makes it an immediate point of attention. At the end of the day, again, this may sound common sense and simple: don't attack a nuclear power plant."

PTI

The Indian PM's 7-hr visit to Kyiv was the shortest to the war-torn country's capital after the US president's 4-hr one. Despite the effort, the Ukrainian president wasn't polite in describing the upshot of the visit. Meanwhile, the possibility of a nuclear war hasn't been this close in decades

In effect, what we are facing is an escalation of the war, aided and abetted by President Joe Biden's administration in the US that appears bent upon twisting the knife not only into Russia, but resultantly into Ukraine as well.

Why Ukraine, one might ask. Because Zelenskyy had said on August 22 that Ukraine would do everything to force Putin to end the war through diplomacy. The same day, Russia and Ukraine exchanged 230 prisoners of war—115 from each side. A diplomatic breakthrough was a long-shot conceivability, if not a feasibility.

Modi was in Warsaw when the drone attack on the Kursk plant took place. Photographic evidence of the attack went viral. Within hours, the PM entered 'Rail Force One' for a 10-hour, 690-km journey from Warsaw to Kyiv .

Modi's sojourn in Kyiv was just seven hours long—the second-shortest in the city after Biden's four-hour visit in February 2023. Biden's visit had been secretive and designed to pump up Zelenskyy; Modi's was announced well in advance and meant to palliate. If there was a conciliatory message he was carrying from Putin, Zelenskyy acidly returned it to the sender.

Zelenskyy is not an exemplar of diplomatic stability. After Modi's departure, Zelenskyy wasn't polite in upbraiding what he saw as India's intransigence on Russia. The geostrategist and professor at the Centre for Policy Research Brahma Chellaney tweeted, "Coinciding with Ukraine's Kursk offensive, Modi's Kyiv visit was not just ill-timed; India got an earful from Zelenskyy, who not only rejected a mediating role for India in the war but also slammed India on issues ranging from its UN voting record to its oil imports from Russia."

Four days after Modi's visit, Zelenskyy was singing a combative tune, asserting during a press conference on August 27 that he intended to present a plan to Biden (and, playing the field, to Biden's successors): "There can be no compromises with Putin, dialogue today is in principle empty and meaningless because he does not want to end the war diplomatically."

Modi thus returned with no credit, either as war conciliator or as statesman. His disembarking in New Delhi was novelly lowkey. He was unsmiling. The usual throng was missing. Only one uniformed salutant stood at the base of the airstairs. Most telling, there was just one video news camera.

It was a final flexure of futility.

Underestimating China

Penalise delays

Court adjournments disproportionately affect the poor, causing uncertainty, higher costs, evidence loss, and emotional distress. To alleviate these issues, a fast-track system prioritising economically disadvantaged cases can improve justice delivery. Reducing adjournments, penalising unnecessary delays, and promoting alternative dispute resolution can ensure timely and efficient justice, especially for vulnerable individuals.

● Party releases 2nd list of 6 candidates for J&K elections

J&K Cong president to contest from Srinagar

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

THE Congress on Monday released a second list of six more candidates for the maiden Assembly polls in Jammu and Kashmir Union Territory, fielding recently appointed J&K Party chief Tariq Hamid Karra from a Srinagar seat. The list was released after the assent of the Central Election Committee which met in Delhi on Sunday.

Karra who, recently replaced Vikar Rasool as J&K Congress chief, will contest from Central Shalteng Assembly seat in Srinagar. It would be the first major electoral battle for Tariq Karra after he won the 2014 general elections from the Srinagar Lok Sabha seat on a PDP ticket by defeating Farooq Abdullah; he quit PDP following the unrest over the killing of Hizb commander Burhan Wani on July 8, 2016.

Karra had earlier also won Assembly polls from Batamaloo constituency, which has now been rechristened as Central Shalteng after addition of some areas following the delimitation exercise post Article 370 abrogation. Besides, the Congress has fielded Mumtaz Khan, who recently returned to Congress from Apni Party from Reasi seat, Bhupender Jamwal from Mata Vaishno Devi, Iftikhar Ahmed from Rajouri (ST), Shabbir Ahmed Khan from Thannamandi (ST) and Mohammad Shahnawaz Choudhary from Surankote (ST). These six constituencies will go to polls in the second phase of the three-phase assembly elections in J&K on September 25.

Last week, the Congress had released the first list of nine candidates for the first phase of on September 18 featuring three former J&K Congress chiefs – Ghulam Ahmad Mir from Dooru, Vikar Rasool from Banihal and Peerzada Sayeed from Anantnag.

The Congress and NC have forged a pre-poll alliance for Assembly polls. Congress would contest on 32 seats in 90-member J&K assembly, NC will contest on 51, there would be a friendly fight on five.

Tariq won earlier from Batamaloo

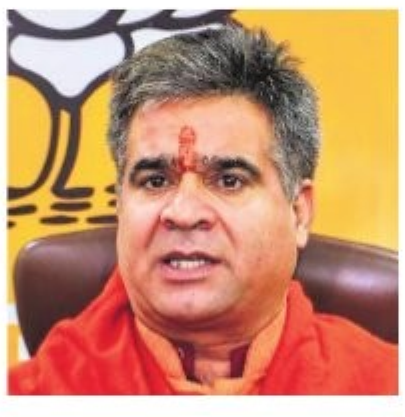
J&K party chief Tariq Hamid Karra had earlier also won Assembly polls from Batamaloo constituency, which has now been rechristened as Central Shalteng after addition of areas following delimitation exercise post Article 370 abrogation. The Congress fielded Mumtaz Khan, who returned to Congress from Apni Party from Reasi, Bhupender Jamwal from Mata Vaishno Devi, Iftikhar Ahmed from Rajouri (ST) and Shabbir Ahmed Khan from Thannamandi

● Saffron party comes out with 4th list of 6 nominees

State BJP chief to be in fray from Nowshera

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

THE BJP on Monday released its fourth list of six candidates for the Jammu and Kashmir assembly polls, fielding party's J&K unit chief and firebrand leader Ravindra Raina from his home constituency Nowshera in border district of Rajouri in Jammu region.



Raina, who has been J&K BJP chief since before the Article 370 abrogation, had won the Assembly polls from the Nowshera in his electoral debut in 2014. Er Aijaz Hussain, a BJP district development committee (DDC) member from Srinagar, has been fielded from the prestigious Lal Chowk seat in Srinagar. Aijaz, a youth leader, was among the three BJP members, who won the DDC polls in 2020.

Others given mandate by BJP in the Monday list includes Arif Raja from Eidgah seat in Srinagar, Dr Ali Mohammad Mir from Khansahib seat, Zahid Hussain from Chrar-e-Sharief and Vibodh Gupta will fight from Rajouri (ST). With this list of six candidates, the BJP has so far named 51 candidates including 14 from the Kashmir Valley and 37 from Jammu region.

Of the 90 member J&K Assembly, Kashmir has 47 seats and Jammu has 43. Of the 90 seats, nine seats have been reserved for STs and seven seats for SCs. Jammu and Kashmir is going to polls in three phases – September 18, 25, and October 1. The counting of votes is slated for October 4.

These assembly polls, the first in J&K since the Article 370 abrogation, is very important for BJP and its J&K president Ravindra Raina. The BJP fulfilled its manifesto by abrogating Articles 370 and 35A and bifurcating erstwhile J&K state into two Union Territories on August 5, 2019. The party would go into the polls with its narrative that the move has ushered in an era of peace and development in J&K. However, the party narrative will suffer a major jolt if it loses the polls and does not form the government in J&K.

Saffron names 51 candidates

With this list of six candidates, the BJP has so far named 51 candidates including 14 from the Kashmir Valley and 37 from Jammu. Of the 90 member J&K Assembly, Kashmir has 47 seats and Jammu has 43. Of the 90 seats, nine seats have been reserved for STs and seven seats for SCs. J&K is going to polls in three phases – September 18, 25, and October 1. Votes will be counted on October 4. The election is important for BJP and its J&K chief since abrogation of Article 370.

'Sharia law soon, women will have no rights in Bangla'

WOMEN in Bangladesh will bear the brunt of increasing prominence to radical Islamist outfits after the ouster of Sheikh Hasina as the prime minister in the country, Bangladeshi author, activist and physician Taslima Nasrin, who has been living in exile in India for many years now, tells Yeshi Seli. She fears that radical elements will bring in Sharia law and women will have no rights. Excerpts:

Bangladesh has been going through turmoil and uncertainty. How do you see women faring?
Women are likely to be worst-hit. The increasing prominence of radical Islamists will take away the rights of women by imposing restrictions and controlling them under the Sharia law. Universities have already begun to issue diktats on Islamic dress code.

Have you noticed any change in the attitude towards women after the ouster of Sheikh Hasina and swearing in of the interim government?
Yes, indeed. Girls in many universities have been asked to adhere to a dress code. Wearing a hijab/nakab/burkha has been introduced as a dress code and soon it will become the norm. If the Sharia law comes into play, then women will have no rights at all.

Does it mean that there will be restrictions on freedom of expression?
There is an increase in intolerance. There is no freedom of expression. Human rights are being violated and soon women will be left without any rights after the imposition of Sharia law. Hizb ut-Tahrir, Jamaat-I-Islami and radicalised students are gaining prominence with each passing day. Hizb ut-Tahrir, Jamaat-I-Islami were considered terror outfits during Hasina's rule. Many members of those outfits were sent to jails for killing bloggers/writers. They are now being freed, suggesting what the future holds for the country.

Was the rise of Islamic radicals sudden?
No, it wasn't. Former PM Sheikh Hasina had encouraged fundamentalists during her rule, so madrassas mushroomed across the country. The young generation grew up in an Islamic environment. Instead of encouraging the youth to think rationally and study science, which would have enabled them to broaden their horizon, Sheikh Hasina encouraged the radical elements, which eventually became Frankenstein and led to her unceremonious ouster. However, the present government is worse than the Sheikh Hasina's "autocratic rule".

Teachers are being forced to resign, journalists, ministers and officials of the former government are getting killed, harassed and imprisoned. However, the Md Yunus-led interim government doesn't utter a word against such misdeeds.

Does the interim government offer any hope?
The interim government led by Md Yunus will make things worse as the violence after the ouster of Sheikh Hasina was referred to as celebration. Temples were vandalised, museums and statues of Sheikh Mujibur Rahman were broken and minorities like Hindus were targeted. The interim government said that it was a reaction of the students who were celebrating the victory of the new dispensation. The sentiment on the ground is anti-India, anti-women and anti-democracy. Radicalisation has gone up manifold in the country. Islamists have asked people to boycott Indian products.

You have been living in India for many years now. You have recently expressed concern over the non-renewal of your residence permit.
I have been living in India for nearly two decades now. From 2005 to 2010, my stay was intermittent as the permit didn't enable me to stay at a stretch. However, India is my home since 2011. My residence permit got over on July 27. I haven't officially got any intimation of its renewal. The online status shows that it is under process. So I am optimistic that it will be renewed. Until it actually happens, I am concerned. I am recovering from a surgery, which makes my mobility challenging. I am hopeful that I get my extension soon.

'Nation-building': PM launches BJP membership drive, sets 10 cr target

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR
@New Delhi

LAUNCHING the BJP's nationwide membership drive, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Monday said the youth have to be connected to achieve the goal of a developed India by 2047.

"The youth under age bracket of 18 to 25 are the biggest source of strength for my dream of India in 2047. Therefore, they have to be connected to fulfil the goal of a developed India. They have to be connected with the idea of Nation First," Modi said, setting a target for the party to enroll over 10 crore new members.

He emphasised the BJP's commitment to elevating the country to new heights of peace and prosperity.

"Today, the poor people have greatest faith in the outcomes of our policies and decisions and path adopted for making the country as a developed one. We have to move forward with that strength. I am confident that this membership drive will break all previous records," Modi said, adding that 4 crore roofless people have got addresses with the construction of houses for them under his government.

He called upon BJP members to think innovatively and make border villages fortresses for the party. He said the BJP is only party with a tradition of following an internal democracy.

Taking a dig at opposition parties, Modi said, "Some parties have become examples of the consequences of neglecting internal democracy."

He asked BJP members to expand the party in a way that a maximum number of its women candidates are elected to Lok Sabha and assemblies when the 33 per cent reservation for women in legislatures come into force.

"The 33 per cent reservation for women in assemblies and Lok Sabha will get implemented when the BJP builds itself further through this campaign," he said.

Reflecting on the BJP's journey from a two-MP party, Modi attributed its rise to its steadfast dedication to nation-building and people's welfare.

As per the party's constitution, the membership drive is held every six years. Modi was enrolled by BJP president JP Nadda as the first member of the drive in the presence of senior leaders, including Amit Shah and Rajnath Singh.

Cong levels 'conflict of interest' charge against Buch, seeks investigation

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

THE Congress on Monday accused SEBI Chairperson Madhabi Buch of holding an office of profit at the ICICI Bank and receiving ₹16.8 crore from the bank and its subsidiaries. However, the bank denied the charges, saying it had not paid any salaries or granted Esops after her retirement on October 31, 2013.

Addressing a press conference, Congress leader Pawan Khera said that Buch was a full-time member of SEBI from April 5, 2017, to October 4, 2021, and the chairperson from March 2, 2022, onwards. Between 2017 and 2024, Buch received ₹12.63 crore from ICICI Bank, ₹22.41 lakh from ICICI Prudential, ₹2.84 crore from Employee Stock Ownership Plans (ESOPs), and ₹1.10 crore in TDS payments from ICICI, in addition to her salary from SEBI, which totalled ₹3.3 crore, alleged Khera.

"The SEBI is entrusted with safeguarding the hard-earned money of the Indian middle class. Yet, while the people place their hopes in SEBI, whose chairperson is appointed directly by the PM, they appear to have been conning us all along," he alleged.

Congress general secretary in-charge communications Jairam Ramesh said serious questions have been raised over the conflict of interest of the SEBI chairperson in the regulatory body's Supreme Court-mandated investigations into the Adani Group's violations of securities laws.

Meanwhile, a statement from ICICI Bank said, "ICICI Bank or its group companies have not paid any salary or granted any Esops to Buch after her retirement, other than her retiral benefits. It may be noted that she had opted for superannuation with effect from October 31, 2013".

Netflix lands in 'IC-814' crosshairs, faces scrutiny

PARVEZ SULTAN @New Delhi

AMID a wave of social media outrage over the alleged distortion of the facts and contentious depiction of characters in the web series 'IC-814—The Kandahar Hijack', the Government has summoned the content head of OTT platform Netflix, which is streaming the series based on the infamous of hijacking of Indian Airlines Flight 814 in 1999.

According to officials, the Ministry of Information and Broadcasting (MI&B) has asked Netflix India's chief, Monika Shergill, to appear on Tuesday to explain.

"No one should play with the sentiments of the country; sentiments should be respected. We are not that liberal. Films should be produced but no institution in the country should be abused or god be given a name. Our cultural values shouldn't be taken for granted. It is serious," said a representative of the ministry.

He further indicated that the OTT platform might be suggested to make changes. "OTT doesn't come under censorship, but the series is under scrutiny. Let's see what they say," he added. One of the reasons for the uproar was the names of five hijackers. In the show, directed by Anubhav Sinha, they are referred to as Chief, Doctor, Burger, Bhola and Shankar. The controversy started as several social media users pointed out the Hindu names of the hijackers—'Bhola and Shankar'—while they were all Muslims.

Terrorists used aliases to hide Muslim identity: Malviya

Criticizing the filmmaker for not revealing the true identity of the hijackers, the head of the BJP's IT cell, Amit Malviya, said the hijackers were dreaded terrorists who acquired aliases to hide their Muslim identities. Casting director Mukesh Chhabra said that perpetrators had used nicknames and that extensive research was carried out for series.

Many also objected to the 'humane' side of the perpetrators. In one episode, one of the hijackers named 'Burger' was seen telling the air hostess to take care of herself. People were also agitated as the hijackers and hostages in the plane were shown playing Antakshari.

Hindu Sena files PIL in HC over 'distortion of facts'

SHEKHAR SINGH @ New Delhi

A Public Interest Litigation (PIL) has been filed by the Hindu Sena in the Delhi High Court, calling for a ban on the recently released mini-series, 'IC-814: The Kandahar Hijack' on Netflix.

The PIL argues that the portrayal of the hijackers in the series misrepresents historical facts, potentially misleading viewers and dishonoring the memories of those affected by the event. The five terrorists, responsible for the hijacking and the subsequent hostage situation in Kandahar, Afghanistan, are referred to in the series by fictionalized names—Chief, Doctor, Burger, Bhola, and Shankar—rather than their real identities.

This move by the Hindu Sena comes amid growing controversy on social media, where viewers were outraged over the perceived misrepresentation of such a significant event.

240 aero-engines for frontline Sukhoi fighter jets get green light

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

IN a major move to strengthen Air Force's combat capability, the Cabinet Committee on Security on Monday approved the proposal for procurement of 240 aero-engines for frontline multi-role Su-30 MKI fighters of the Indian Air Force.

The procurement will be done under Buy (Indian) category from Hindustan Aeronautics Limited (HAL) at a cost of more than ₹26,000 crore inclusive of all taxes and duties.

The Ministry of Defence (MoD), in a statement, said, "The delivery of these aero-engines (AL-31FP) would start after one year and complete over a period of eight years."

The engines will have indigenous content more than 54%, enhanced due to indigenisation of some key components. These would be manufactured at Koraput division of HAL, MoD said.

Su-30 MKI is one of the most powerful and strategically-significant fleet of IAF. Of the total 272 contracted, the IAF currently maintains 259 Su-30 MKI fighter jets manufactured by Hindustan Aeronautics Limited (HAL) under licence extended by Russia.

The supply of these aero-engines by HAL, the MoD said, would meet the fleet sustenance requirement of IAF to continue unhindered operations of the Su-30MKI fleet and strengthen the defence preparedness of the country.

The process of upgradation of the Sukhoi fleet is being done with 84 aircraft in the first batch in a period of 15 years.

IAF Chief Marshal Vivek Ram Chaudhari had said that the upgradation will be of 51 systems, which will have an indigenous content of 78%. Once upgraded, these fighter jets will have an extended operational life. The Russian OEM (Original Equipment Manufacturer) will also be involved in the upgradation process.

Fighter jet engines are required to be changed after a certain number of flying hours. The Defence Acquisition-Council is the highest decision-making body on issues related to policy and-capital procurement and is chaired by the defence minister.

LANDSLIDE IN J&K

Two women pilgrims from Punjab and Uttar Pradesh died while a five-year-old girl was grievously injured in a landslide on the new track to the Vaishno Devi shrine in Jammu and Kashmir's Reasi district on Monday, officials said.

CBI arrests RG Kar ex-principal

SULAGNA SENGUPTA @Kolkata

Doctors from various hospitals during their protest march to the police headquarters in Kolkata on Monday | PTI

THE CBI on Monday arrested former principal of RG Kar Medical College and Hospital Sandip Ghosh in connection with the alleged financial irregularities at the establishment, officials said.

The development comes amid protests over the rape and murder of the RG Kar hospital postgraduate trainee on August 9. Ghosh was questioned for the 15th day at the CBI's Salt Lake office over the rape-murder. He was later escorted to the CBI's Nizam Palace office in Kolkata which houses the agency's anticorruption wing and was shown as arrested.

The hospital's former deputy superintendent Akhtar Ali had lodged complaints of financial irregularities at the establishment during Ghosh's tenure.

Meanwhile, junior doctors of different medical colleges on Monday took out a rally to Kolkata Police headquarters Lalbazar, demanding the resignation of Police Commissioner Vineet Goyal, alleging inaction in stopping vandalism at the RG Kar hospital on August 14. The doctors also alleged inadequate steps by police during its probe into the August 9 rape-murder in the state-run hospital, before the probe was handed over to the CBI by Calcutta High Court on August 13.

"Also, our doubts about the probe by Kolkata Police into the rape and murder of our colleague have been vindicated by comments of the CBI lawyer at the Supreme Court. The CBI counsel said the crime scene had altered by the time the agency had taken over the probe. The police commissioner has to take responsibility for that, too," a junior doctor said.

The police put up guardrails tied with chains and padlocks on BB Ganguly Street leading to Lalbazar from College Square to stop the rally from reaching the police headquarters. The doctors then sat on the street, shouting slogans. The protesters were also seen carrying the national flag and placards with slogans seeking justice and protection for all. Some placards displayed the photo of Goyal calling for his resignation. An effigy of the police commissioner was also burnt. When stopped by the cops, the doctors placed roses at the guardrails.

Capital punishment Bill in House today

The West Bengal government has called a special session on Tuesday to pass a bill proposing capital punishment for convicts in rape and murder cases. Titled 'Aparajita Woman and Child Bill, (West Bengal Criminal Laws and Amendment) Bill 2024,' the legislation aims to enhance protection for women and children by amending and introducing new provisions related to rape and sexual offences. The bill proposes to amend the newly passed BNS.

SC trashes Bengal plea against bail to student leader

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Monday dismissed the West Bengal government's plea challengingthe Calcutta High Court's order granting bail to one of the organisers of the August 27 march to the state secretariat to protest against a 31-year-old trainee doctor's rape and murder at the RG Kar Medical College and Hospital.

A bench of Justices J B Pardiwala and Justice Manoj Misra said that "prima facie" a case for bail was made out in the case.

The HC on Friday granted bail to Sayan Lahiri, the leader of the Paschim Banga Chhtra Samaj, which called the August 27 'Nabanna Abhijan'. Lahiri was arrested for playing an active role in leading the march, which, the Kolkata Police said, turned violent, causing destruction of public and private property and attacks on police officers.

Acting on a plea by Lahiri's mother Anjali seeking quashing of proceedings against him and grant of bail, the HC had ordered his release from police custody by 2 pm on Saturday. The Kolkata Police released Lahiri from its custody on Saturday.

In the HC, Anjali had alleged that her son was arrested and several FIRS were registered against him. "Such FIRs are registered within a short period of time with a view to entangle her son in criminal cases to harass him unnecessarily.

As he is taking active part in organizing protest rallies against the gruesome and brutal rape and murder of Trainee medicos, thereby, the police arrested him," the plea said.

Anjali argued through her lawyers that Sayan intended to peacefully protest against the mala fide action of the police and a peaceful protest was led by her son to the state secretariat.

MP BJP bigwigs on Mission Maharashtra

A battery of senior MP BJP leaders, including three ministers, has been tasked by the leadership to coordinate Maharashtra polls related activities in regions bordering MP. While cabinet minister and BJP ex-national general secretary Kailash Vijayvargiya has been entrusted the critical Nagpur cluster, former Union minister and present MP minister Prahlad Patel will oversee Wardha-Amravati region, while young Vishvas Sarang (on MP Congress target for alleged nursing colleges scam) has been tasked with affairs of Akola-Buldhana. Besides, ex MP home minister Narottam Mishra is given Bhandara-Gondia region.

Two new districts in the offing

Two more districts may come up in MP, which got three new districts ahead of assembly polls last year. These two new districts could include Bina, to be carved out of Sagar district in Bundelkhand region, and Junnardeo, cut out of Chhindwara district. According to official sources, the announcement of the new Bina district may just come in the next few days, while the creation of a separate Junnardeo district may take a while. Both Bina (emerging key industrial base) and Junnardeo (housing large coal reserves) have significant population of migrants.

Viral video raises queries on Sagar LS poll results

Guddu Raja Bundela, the Congress candidate who lost the 2024 Lok Sabha polls from Sagar seat has demanded that the Election Commission (EC) declare the election of first-time BJP MP Lata Wankhede void, following a viral video where a BJP worker is purportedly heard telling Wankhede that he has polled 15 bogus votes in her favour. In the same video, another worker can be heard telling the MP that they didn't allow the Congress polling agents to work on 13 polling booths. Alleging that the video exposes malpractices perpetrated by the BJP, he requested the EC to declare the election void.

Remove Central forces, says BJP MLA in Manipur

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @Guwahati

AGAINST the backdrop of fresh violence in Manipur, a BJP MLA of the state on Monday sought the withdrawal of central forces "who are mostly present as mute spectators".

In a letter to Union Home Minister Amit Shah, Sagolband MLA Rajkumar Imo Singh said the presence of 60,000 central forces was not yielding peace and hence, should be withdrawn. Two persons, including a woman, were killed and nine others injured in an attack by the militants at Koutruk and its adjoining areas of the Imphal West district on Sunday. The Manipur police said the militants had "deployed numerous RPGs using high-tech drones" in the "unprecedented attack".

Singh demanded that the Centre abrogate its suspension of operation agreement signed with myriad Kuki insurgent groups "which are constantly behind the spread of further violence".

"Investigate the funding and supply of these arms and ammunition…as I said before, a mere ethnic conflict should not last for such a long time but it has continued for nearly a year-and-a-half now due to the support and supply of illegal arms and ammunition," he said.

After deaths of aspirants, J'khand cop recruitment drive postponed by 3 days

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

AS the death toll reached 12 on Monday during the excise constable recruitment drive in Jharkhand, Chief Minister Hemant Soren instructed officials to postpone the recruitment process for the next three days as a precautionary measure and also prohibited any race taking place after 9 a.m.

"While directing an immediate review of the previous government's recruitment rules, I have also mandated changes for all future similar recruitments. Officials have been instructed to propose immediate relief for the victims and their families," Hemant Soren posted.

The opposition BJP has demanded ₹50 lakh in compensation and a job for the nearest kin of the deceased candidates. Assam Chief Minister and co-election in-charge of Jharkhand, Himanta Biswa Sarma, announced on Monday that the BJP would personally visit the families of each deceased candidate and provide ₹1 lakh in compensation.

> The BJP will provide ₹1 lakh in compensation to the family members of the deceased aspirants for excise constables. I will also personally visit the families of each deceased
>
> Himanta Biswa Sarma, Assam CM

"Meanwhile, the BJP will provide ₹1 lakh in compensation to the family members of the deceased aspirants for excise constables," said Sarma. He also promised that the BJP would provide Rs 50 lakh in compensation to each deceased candidate's family if the BJP government comes to power, should the current government fail to do so.

Sarma also urged the JMM-led alliance government to halt the recruitment drive for at least 15 days until weather conditions improve in the region. He criticised the government for attempting to link the deaths to COVID-19 and its vaccine, pointing out that similar recruitment drives for police and military personnel were conducted nationwide without any reported deaths.

"It is truly shameful for the Soren government to evade responsibility by attributing these deaths to COVID-19. The BJP strongly condemns this incident and demands that the state postpones the recruitment drive until September 15," he said.

Jawan found dead in Sunjwan base in Jammu, Army rules out terror angle

FAYAZ WANI @Srinagar

AN army soldier has died under mysterious circumstances at the highly secured Sunjwan military station in Jammu, the winter capital of Jammu and Kashmir, on Monday. The army has ruled out a terror angle in the soldier's death.

The soldier, who was deployed on sentry duty at the Sunjwan military station, sustained a critical bullet injury in the morning. He was evacuated to a military hospital, where he succumbed to his injuries.

Initially suspecting a militant attack, the army and police launched a massive search operation in and around the area. Drones and helicopters were also deployed for aerial surveillance.

Security officials suspect that militants might have used a sniper rifle to target the soldier before fleeing the scene. However, the search operation throughout the day yielded no signs of militants, and no suspected militant movement was detected by drones or helicopters, according to defense sources.

In the evening, a Jammu-based defense spokesman stated that initial investigations by the Indian Army suggest the incident was not a terror attack. The cause of the soldier's death is still under investigation.

When asked whether the soldier might have committed suicide or been shot by someone else within the camp, the spokesman said, "We cannot comment on that as the details are being investigated. The investigation will reveal how the soldier died."

The Sunjwan military station is the largest army camp in the Jammu region and is heavily guarded.

On February 10, 2018, the station had been attacked by a group of heavily armed Jaish militants, resulting in the deaths of six soldiers, an Army officer, a civilian, and three militants.

Not 'Shahi'! BJP takes objection to word in procession of Lord Mahakal in Ujjain

ANURAAG SINGH @ Bhopal

IN the era of politics of name change, politics has now begun over the use of the word 'Shahi' (imperial) in the traditional 'Shahi Sawari' procession of Lord Mahakal in Madhya Pradesh's holiest city Ujjain – which is also the home city of state's chief minister Dr Mohan Yadav.

Joining the demand of the local scholars, seer and devotees in Ujjain to remove the word 'Shahi' from the traditional procession of Lord Mahakal in Ujjain during the auspicious Hindu months of Shrawan, Bhadrapad and Kartik, former BJP MLA and party's present state spokesperson Yashpal Singh Sisodiya demanded that the "Islamic/ Urdu" word 'Shahi' be replaced with any of its Hindi synonyms.

Tagging a post to the MP CM Dr Mohan Yadav, the three-time former MLA from Mandsaur district Sisodiya, wrote that learned devotees, including seers and scholars in Ujjain, have objected to the use of 'Shahi' in the traditional procession of Lord Mahakal. "They've expressed anger by objecting to calling addressing the procession as Shahi Sawari, as the word 'Shahi' is Islamic. The devotees have demanded that the CM take the initiative for the change."

Sisodiya also mentioned about a Hindu religious preacher Bhimashankar Shastri recently objecting in Mandsaur, to the use of terms Shahi Sawari, Shahi Palki etc to address the processions of Lord Shiva in Ujjain, Mandsaur and other places.

The state's culture minister Dharmendra Singh Lodhi, said in Bhopal, that the demand raised by seers and devotees is important and will be looked into. "We'll take an appropriate decision in consultation with the MP CM," the minister said. Meanwhile, amid the controversy over the issue, the state's public relations department released in the evening the CM Dr Mohan Yadav's video message, in which the CM referred to the last traditional procession of Lord Mahakal (for Shrawan and Bhadrapad months) as Rajasi Sawari instead of Shahi Sawari.

Mocking at the politics over the issue, the state Congress's media department head and ex-MLA Mukesh Nayak said "The state's culture minister needs to first tell what the meaning of the word Shahi is? Then all terms containing the word should be changed, including Shahi Snan and sweets, like Shahi Paneer and Shahi Tukda."

Kannauj leader raped minor, confirms DNA sample: Cops

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

THE DNA report of former block pramukh Nawab Singh Yadav, belonging to the Samajwadi Party, corroborated the rape on the 15-year-old minor survivor as it matched with the sample collected from her in Kannauj on Monday.

The DNA report of accused Nawab Singh Yadav substantiated his genetic profile as it corresponded to the evidence discovered in the rape case of the minor girl. The case triggered a war of words between the BJP and SP. Nawab Singh Yadav used to manage a private education institute and is accused of calling the minor to his residence cum college on the pretext of giving her job along with her aunt.

Following an FIR by victim's parents, the main accused was arrested and sent to jail. The victim's aunt is also in police custody for allegedly being hand in gloves with Yadav and hushing up the case after the incident.

While the BJP functionaries launched a broadside on social media claiming that the accused, Nawab Singh Yadav, was an SP neta and close to its first family, the district SP chief said that he was no longer associated with the party. During interrogation, the girl divulged that she had accompanied her paternal aunt to Yadav's college, having been informed that her attendance was imperative for a job prospect.

BJP neta held for raping mentally challenged girl

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

A state functionary of the BJP was arrested for allegedly raping a mentally challenged girl in Bihar's Gaya district, police said on Monday.

Police swung into action after family members of the survivor lodged a formal complaint with women's police station in Gaya, two days after the offender uploaded the video of incident on social media.

The incident took place on Saturday when the girl, reportedly a minor, was playing near her home. The accu sed Naresh Ram Turi allegedly lured the victim, took him to a secluded place and outraged her modesty. He also recorded the entire incident and subsequently uploaded it on social media.

Police has arrested the BJP worker and sent the victim for medical examination, Gaya senior superintendent of police Ashish Bharti said, adding, "Police will ensure speedy trial of the accused and ensure justice for the victim and her relatives."

The accused Naresh Ram Turi is the son of a former BJP MLA late Kalicharan Ram. Turi is said to be a state functionary of the saffron party. In 2023, he was arrested on charges of molesting a girl in Gaya. The incident has sent shock waves among residents, who are demanding stringent action against the accused.

RUSSIAN MISSILE BARRAGE AHEAD OF UKRAINIAN KIDS RETURNING TO SCHOOL

Pupils of the first grade arrive to attend a class on the first day of the new school year in a classroom located in the passage of the subway station in Kharkiv | AP

KYIV: RUSSIA launched an overnight barrage of drones and cruise and ballistic missiles at Kyiv, officials said on Monday, as children were returning to school across Ukraine. Some pupils found classes cancelled because of damage from the attack. Several series of explosions rocked the Ukrainian capital. Debris from intercepted missiles and drones fell in every district of Kyiv, wounding three people and damaging two kindergartens, the Interior Ministry said. City authorities reported multiple fires. Russia launched 35 missiles and 26 Shahed drones at Ukraine overnight from Sunday to Monday, the Ukrainian air force said. Nine ballistic missiles, 13 cruise missiles and 20 drones were downed, it said. Kyiv residents hurried into bomb shelters. Oksana Argunova, an 18-year-old student, said she was still shaking after the scare. "I woke up, my neighbour was shouting: 'Let's go down (to the shelter), there are big explosions.' We all ran," she said. Monday was the first day back at school after the summer vacation. In Ukraine, the day involves ceremonies and rituals, with students and often teachers wearing traditional costumes. Russian President Vladimir Putin said on Monday that Ukraine's Kursk assault won't prevent Russian forces from advancing in eastern Ukraine. "The main task that the enemy set for themselves — to stop our offensive in Donbas — they haven't achieved it," Putin told students during a trip to Siberia. He predicted that the Kursk offensive will fail and that Kyiv officials will want "to move to peace talks." Speaking in the southern city of Zaporizhzhia, Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy said his country's operation in Kursk had drawn Russian troops away from southern Ukraine, but acknowledged that it had not yet succeeded in diverting Russian forces from the eastern frontlines, where the city of Pokrovsk is at risk of falling. "We see that it is difficult there, and the most combat-ready Russian brigades have been concentrated in this area because it has always been their main target — Donbas. The complete, total occupation of Donbas: Donetsk and Luhansk regions," he said. Dutch Prime Minister Dick Schoof, visiting Ukraine for the first time since taking office, traveled with Zelenskyy to Zaporizhzhia, 40 km (from the frontline. They visited an underground school, and Schoof announced his government would give Ukraine 200 million euros ($221 million) to help protect and repair the electricity infrastructure.

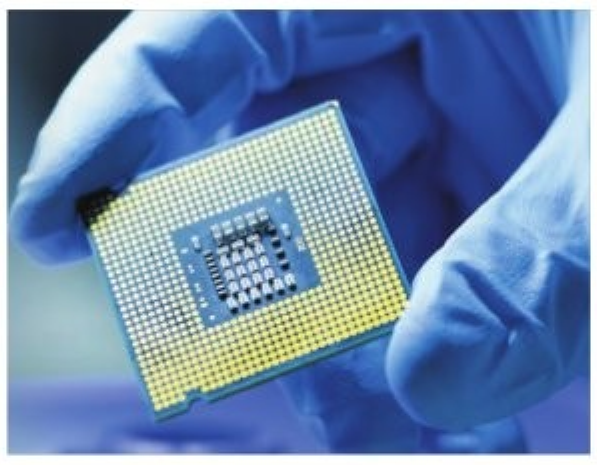
Nod for Kaynes' ₹3.3K cr chip plant in Guj

Plant to produce 60L chips a day, and will cater to variety of applications like auto, EVs, electronics, telecom, phones

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi



Semiconductor mission is a program for at least 10 years. The industry is going to be crucial for industrial production

Ashwini Vaishnaw, IT minister

THE government on Monday approved a proposal by Kaynes Semicon Pvt Ltd to set up a semiconductor assembly and testing plant in Sanand, Gujarat. The plant, which will be established at a cost of ₹3,300 crore, is the fifth plant to be set up under India's Semiconductor Mission.

The government launched the mission in December 2021 with an outlay of ₹76,000 crore to make the country a semiconductor manufacturing hub. So far, the government has approved four applications for assembly units and one for chip manufacturing.

"The semiconductor mission is a program for at least 10 years. The industry is going to be crucial for industrial production in the country. We have a large automobile and electronic manufacturing industry up in the country. A large number of appliances are now manufactured in India. So, the success of Make in India requires that the foundational industry should also be present in our country," Union Minister of the Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology (MeitY) Ashwini Vaishnaw said on Monday.

The plant will produce 60 lakh chips per day, and will cater to a wide variety of applications, including segments such as industrial, automotive, electric vehicles, consumer electronics, telecom, mobile phones, etc.

Kaynes Semicon, an arm of Karnataka-based Kaynes Technology, had applied for setting up its OSAT (Outsourced Semiconductor Assembly and Test) plant in Telangana under the government's semiconductor mission scheme last year. According to a post on social media platform X by Chief Minister's office of Telangana on 19 August 2024, Kaynes CEO Raghu Panicker had announced a new OSAT unit, pending approval from the Indian Semiconductor Mission (ISM) in Telangana.

However, on Monday the company announced that it is coming up with an OSAT plant in Sanand, where other chip makers, Micron and Murugappa Group's CG Power, have already announced their units.

Vaishnaw also mentioned that soon the government will come up with a second round of Production-Linked Incentives for the semiconductor industry. So far, the Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology has approved a fabrication plant worth $11 billion being set up by Tata Electronics in partnership with Taiwan's Powerchip, and three different chip assembly plants being set up by the Tatas, US-based Micron Technology, and Murugappa Group's CG Power in partnership with Japan's Renesas.

Nifty gains for 13th straight session to hit high of 25,333.6

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

Rally attributed to positive global cues

The ongoing rally in the market is attributed to positive global cues amidst the high chances of an early interest rate cut by the Federal Reserve. Further, an improvement in macroeconomic indicators and buying in select index heavyweights is pushing the benchmarks to new highs

ADVANCING for the 13th consecutive session, probably its longest run on record, the local equity market benchmark index - NSE Nifty50 - touched fresh high level again on Monday. The other benchmark - BSE Sensex- rose for the 10th consecutive session on Monday.

The Nifty ended 42.80 points or 0.17%, higher at 25,278.70, and the Sensex closed 194.07 points or 0.24%, up at 82,559.84. During the intraday trade of Monday, the Nifty hit a new record high of 25,333.60 and the Sensex touched a fresh high of 82,725.28.

The ongoing rally in the market is attributed to positive global cues amidst the high chances of an early interest rate cut by the Federal Reserve. Further, an improvement in macroeconomic indicators and buying in select index heavyweights is pushing the benchmarks to new highs. "The positive trend is broadly sustaining as the domestic economic growth is still healthy and PMI numbers are much above the long-term average indicating uptick in earnings in the coming quarters. But volatility is increasing as Q1 GDP growth has moderated and a similar trend is witnessed in corporate earnings," said Vinod Nair, Head of Research, Geojit Financial Services.

The broader indices underperformed as the BSE MidCap ended flat and the SmallCap fell 0.5%. Except for bank, FMCG and IT, all other sectoral indices closed in the red with capital goods, metal, healthcare, telecom and media down 0.4-1.6%. Among stocks, Bajaj Finserv, Bajaj Finance, HCL Technologies, Bajaj Auto and Hero MotoCorp were among the top gainers in the Nifty 50 pack. Grasim Industries, Kotak Mahindra Bank, Adani Enterprises, Coal India and Nestle India were among the major laggards.

Vikram Kasat, head - advisory, PL Capital - Prabhudas Lilladher, said that compared to major global indices like the S&P 500 and NASDAQ, which have shown gains, the frontline Indian indices such as the Nifty 50 and BSE Sensex have slightly underperformed in recent times. "Looking ahead, while short-term volatility may continue, the medium to long-term outlook for Indian equities remains positive. However, global economic challenges could still pose risks, especially if foreign investor sentiment weakens further," added Kasat.

Infosys issues appointment letters to over 1K campus hires

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

IT services company Infosys has issued appointment letters to more than 1,000 campus hires, according to IT union Nascent Information Technology Employees Senate (NITES).

This comes weeks after chief executive officer Salil Parekh assured that offers given to freshers will be honoured by the company. The company has been delaying the onboarding of 2,000 fresh engineering graduates.

"These young engineers, who have been waiting for nearly two years, now have a confirmed joining date of October 7, 2024. This is a huge win for NITES and all the students who stood strong in the face of uncertainty and delay. However, we remain vigilant... if Infosys fails to honour this commitment and breaches the joining date, we will not hesitate to organise a protest right in front of the Infosys office," said Harpreet Singh Saluja, president, NITES.

Recently, NITES had filed a formal complaint against Infosys for onboarding delays.

Over 2,000 young engineering graduates who were selected for System Engineer (SE) and Digital Specialist Engineer (DSE) roles during the 2022-23 recruitment drive are still waiting to be onboarded, Saluja had said.

In the company's annual report, chief executive officer Salil Parekh has mentioned that the company has recruited nearly 11,900 college graduates in 2023-2024.

However, this is a 76% drop compared to the previous year as the company hired about 50,000 freshers in FY23.

54% of IPO shares get sold within week: Sebi

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @ Mumbai

Higher exit ratio in IPOs with smaller issue size

The study has seen a positive correlation between listing gains and the percentage of shares exited. IPOs with gains exceeding 20% in the first week saw higher exit rates across all investor categories. The study saw that higher percentage of exits were in those issues which had smaller issue size (below ₹1,000 crore) but heavily oversubscribed, particularly among individual investors

AS much as 54% of the IPO shares get sold within a week of their listing, markets regulator Sebi has said.

In a study released on Monday, the regulator said the findings are based on a recent study by the Department of Economic and Policy Analysis, which has shed light on investor behaviour in initial public offerings (IPOs), which has found as much as 54% of the IPO shares get sold within a week of listing. This doesn't include anchor investors selling, indicating a strong tendency for short-term profit-taking among IPO investors.

Of this, retail investors sold 42.7% of their allotted shares within a week, non-institutional investors sold 63.3% in the same period, suggesting that individual investors, mainly NIIs, are more likely to engage in short-term trading strategies.

On the behaviour of the institutional investors, the study says qualified institutional buyers showed more varied behaviour with some categories of them holding onto their shares longer, while exclusive QIBs (non-anchor institutional buyers) sold 65.4% within a week.

The study has seen a positive correlation between listing gains and percentage of shares exited. IPOs with gains exceeding 20% in the first week saw higher exit rates across all investor categories. The study saw higher percentage of exits were in those issues which had smaller issue size (below ₹1,000 cr) but heavily oversubscribed, mainly among individual investors.

Recent policy changes since April 2022, including lottery-based allotment for non-institutional investors and restrictions on IPO funding, have had noticeable effects, says the study with the number of high-value applications falling significantly and so did oversubscription levels which declined from 37.5 times to 17.2 times.

The study reveals 70% of IPO investors were from 4 states -- Gujarat, Maharashtra, Rajasthan, and UP -- with Gujarat accounting for 39.3% of retail allotments. Addressing a CII event, Ashwini Bhatia, Sebi whole-time member, said over ₹14,000 crore have been raised via SME listings and it is time for caution as there is no checks and balances.

IPO docs need to be in local languages: Sebi chairperson

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

Inclusion I am referring to is not just about gender inclusion, not just socioeconomic inclusion, it is about language inclusion

Madhabi Puri Buch, Sebi chief

Buch under attack

Buch came under fresh attacks earlier in the day with Congress making fresh allegations that she drew salary of `16.8 crore between 2014 and 2019 from ICICI Bank

THE larger goal of the market makers should be better inclusion, not just in terms of gender or socioeconomic fronts, but in terms of language inclusion, Sebi chief Madhabi Puri Buch said on Monday. It's the time market participants should communicate with the larger public in their respective languages.

Stating that economic prosperity will not be complete unless there is better inclusion and participation of larger section of people in the markets, Buch said, "The inclusion I am referring to is not just about gender inclusion, not just about socioeconomic inclusion, it is also about language inclusion." "Today, we're fortunate that with the help of AI, language barriers should be a thing of the past. We need to simplify the English in our regulation. We will need to move past that and say why we don't have IPO summaries in 15 languages or 27 languages?" she asked addressing a CII event.

She said that such inclusion will be important driver for Sebi. Buch, under political heat after the US shortseller Hindenburg made allegations last month, came under fresh attacks earlier in the day with the Congress party making fresh allegations that she drew salary to the tune of ₹16.8 crore between 2014 and 2019 from ICICI Bank group, her first employer, when she was a whole-time member of the Sebi. After the speech, she refused to meet the media. ICICI Bank has denied the charges against it regarding paying salaries to Buch who now heads the Sebi saying it has not paid any salaries or granted Esops to after her retirement on October 31, 2013.

Two-wheeler sales improve on rural demand

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

We are close to pre-covid peak. Before Covid, the industry was growing at 4%, scooter market was growing at 8%. We were growing at 12%, even now are ahead of industry

—Aniruddha Haldar, head of commuter biz, TVS Motor

AFTER a long period, the two-wheeler industry, aided by a recovery in rural demand, is showing continuous improvement in sales volume with most players reporting healthy growth in monthly dispatches.

Hero MotoCorp dispatched 492,263 units last month, up 4% year-on-year compared to 472,947 units in August 2023. It has also reclaimed its number 1 spot from Honda 2Wheelers in the domestic market.

Hero said its August sales were marginally impacted by supply shortages, which will be made up in September. "Hero MotoCorp is geared to ramp-up for the upcoming festive season, where it expects a healthy growth. With faster recovery expected in the rural segment, growth in the 125cc segment, new launches in scooters and strong investment behind power brands, the company expects to grow ahead of the industry," the company said. Honda Motorcycle and Scooter India (HMSI) on Monday reported a 9% rise in domestic wholesales to 491,678 units in August. The company had dispatched 451,200 units in August 2023. Bajaj Auto's two-wheeler domestic sales jumped 30% to 208,621 units while TVS Motor Company reported a growth of 13% with sales increasing from 256,619 units in August 2023 to 289,073 units in August 2024.

Aniruddha Haldar, head of commuter business at TVS Motor, last week told TNIE that TVS Motor is close to inching its pre-COVID peak of FY18-19. He also said that industry volume is expected to be very good this year as so far in FY25, the volume is up by 12-13%.

"We are very close to our pre-covid peak. Before the pandemic, the industry was growing at 4% and the scooter market was growing at 8%. We were growing at 12% and even now we continue to grow ahead of the industry," said Halder. He added that the big positive for the industry has been rural growth outstripping urban growth.

Halder also expects a robust festive season for TVS as well as the industry. He said that while some areas have experienced excessive rainfall, the overall monsoon has been favourable, boosting confidence that the two-wheeler industry will exceed current growth rates in the festive season.

'Have tech to make vehicles with other fuels'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

REGARDING TVS Motor's plan to launch CNG-powered motorcycle, Aniruddha Haldar, head of commuter business, said that the company will only introduce other technologies when it become economically viable for them and the consumers.

"We did the first pilot project on electric vehicless way back in 2008. Whether it is flex fuel, ethanol, ICE, PNG, or any other technology, there is work happening on all of them. When we believe there is a market that has an economically sustainable segment that can be sustainably serviced and sold to, we will definitely be there," said Halder.

His response amidst speculations that TVS Motor is mulling to launch a CNG bike following a launch by rival automaker Bajaj Auto in July. Halder also said that they are gearing up to launch a new electric vehicle.

WazirX hack: Users unlikely to get full amount

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

Customers may lose 43% of their money

As per legal advisors, customers will get a return of 55-57% of the funds. This means, 43% of the money is may not be recovered. Founder and CEO Nischal Shetty said they are in negotiation and in ideation stage, and not in a position to say much. The exchange has an ownership dispute with Binance.

USERS of crypto exchange WazirX, which was hacked in July resulting in the theft of digital assets worth above ₹2,000 crore, may not receive their funds in full. In a virtual conference on Monday, George Gwee, director, restructuring, Kroll and Jason Kardachi, MD, Kroll (financial advisor for WazirX), explained the current situation of the exchange. As per legal advisors, customers will get a return of 55-57% of the funds.

This means, 43% of the money may not be recovered. Founder and CEO Nischal Shetty said they are in negotiation and in ideation stage, and not in a position to say much.

The exchange has an ownership dispute with Binance. While Zanmai India operates WazirX, Zettai is Singapore-incorporated, and it has applied for a moratorium in Singapore court. WazirX is pursuing a restructuring of crypto balances that will take at least six months, and as part of the restructuring, it aims to engage with a white knight to provide capital and pursue partnerships and collaborations.

The cyberattack on July 18 resulted in a large volume of ERC-20 tokens being stolen. Last month, Google subsidiary Mandiant Solutions provided a clean chit to the exchange, but digital assets security firm Liminal Custody questioned the scope and methodology of the audit. Shetty told TNIE. "It's just three laptops that we used for accessing the liminal website. Our infrastructure was not impacted or involved in this process. We gave the entire laptop image and data to the forensic team, we have even provided this to the right authorities."

He added that there is nothing beyond the laptop image that exists with us since nothing else on our end was used for accessing the Liminal website except these three laptops. The exchange said tracking and recovering of stolen crypto assets are a top priority.

Legal advisors explained that restructuring is not insolvency, liquidation or bankruptcy. It is a plan to distribute assets to users in a pro-rata, equitable way, and in crypto (not fiat); and that it allows users who need liquidity urgently to withdraw crypto and not exit the restructuring.

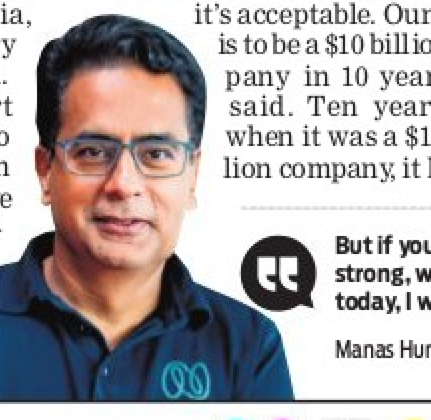
India is big story for next 20-30-yr, pharma & life sciences strong sector: Nagarro CEO

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

ONE of the fastest growing IT companies Nagarro is bullish on India market and its growth opportunities. The company's CEO and co-founder Manas Human told TNIE that India is the big story for the next 20-30 years. "Today we see a lot of exciting work happening in India, and it's definitely a very large area for us," he said.

Listed on the Frankfurt Stock Exchange, Nagarro is already working with some of the top automotive companies, banks and others in India. It has over 100 clients in India and over 1,000 in 70 countries. It works with Audi and Volkswagen Group on in-car API management systems, and in India, it works with Maruti Suzuki.

Recently, it crossed the $1 billion revenue mark. The CEO hopes growth will be faster. "Compared to the past, it is slow but given market conditions, it's acceptable. Our target is to be a $10 billion company in 10 years," he said. Ten years ago, when it was a $100 million company, it had set a $1 billion target. Manas, who was recently in Bengaluru, told TNIE, "So 10x in 10 years and we want another 10x in 10 years." Of over 18,000 employees, India employs over 13,000 people and it is going hyperlocal to strengthen its workforce and extend reach into tier 2 and tier 3 cities. It is also bullish about all sectors. "But if you look at pharma and life sciences, it is a really strong, world-class sector. If I have to be an entrepreneur today, I would have liked to be in the life sciences space," he said.



But if you look at pharma and life sciences, it is a really strong, world-class sector. If I have to be an entrepreneur today, I would have liked to be in the life sciences space

Injured Nagal pulls out of Davis Cup

India's top singles player Sumit Nagal on Monday pulled out of the upcoming Davis Cup tie against Sweden due to a back injury. Nagal recently lost his first round singles contest to Tallon Griekspoor at the US Open. "I was really looking forward to representing in the upcoming Davis Cup tie against Sweden," Nagal wrote on social media.

IITian, shuttler, Paralympic champion

Overnight bus journey from Mandi to Karnal to podium: The rise and rise of Nitesh; back-to-back gold for Sumit

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

(From L) Indian para-badminton player Nitesh Kumar finished on top of the podium; Sumit Antil won F64 javelin gold

NITESH Kumar used to play football and basketball before he lost his left leg in a mishap in 2009. The unfortunate train accident failed to break him as his father Vijender Singh, a junior commissioned officer with the Indian Navy and amputee soldiers of the Kargil War, did their best to keep Nitesh motivated.

Always good at academics, Nitesh pursued electrical engineering at IIT Mandi, Himachal Pradesh. It was during his first semester in Mandi, he watched fellow students battling it out on the badminton court on the campus. "Fellow students asked him to join seeing his enthusiasm and soon he started defeating them despite him being on a prosthetic leg," father Vijender told this daily from Charkhi Dadri in Haryana.

Nitesh went on to win medals at the Para Asian Games in 2018 and 2023 but missed out on a chance to represent the country in the Tokyo Paralympics. He made up for the lost time when he clinched his first gold in the SL3 category at the ongoing 2024 Paris Paralympics on Monday. But it was not easy for Nitesh to pursue engineering and badminton simultaneously especially when he started competing in international events. "On weekdays he used to attend classes and then board a bus on Friday evening from Mandi to Karnal, Haryana. After a 12-hour overnight journey, he used to have three sessions at the Karan Stadium on Saturdays and Sundays before boarding a bus for Mandi again on Sunday evening. He even took a one-year break from studies to compete at the 2018 Para Asian Games where he won men's doubles bronze," added the father.

Nitesh was up against Great Britain's Daniel Bethell in the final. Bethell, the Tokyo Games silver medallist, had emerged victorious in all the previous nine meetings. The 29-year-old from Haryana, however, came up with his greatest win on the grandest stage as he beat his opponent 21-14, 18-21, 23-21 to help India retain the SL3 gold, which Pramod Bhagat had won in Tokyo. "I have lost such situations against him and I didn't want to make the same mistakes. I had lost my calm in the past so I told myself that I should keep fighting for each point. At 19-20 in the decider also I told myself to stick in there and make him earn the point," Nitesh said.

Antil defends javelin gold

Star javelin thrower Sumit Antil on Monday became the first Indian man and second from the country to defend the title as he won the F64 category gold with Paralympics record of 70.59m. The 26-year-old world record holder from Sonepat, Haryana bettered his own earlier Paralympic record of 68.55m set in Tokyo while winning the gold three years ago. His world record stands at 73.29m. Antil is the second Indian overall after shooter Avani Lekhara to defend Paralympics title. F64 category is for athletes with problems in the lower limb(s), those competing with prosthesis or affected by leg length difference.

Silver lining

Meanwhile, discus thrower Yogesh Kathuniya won his second consecutive Paralympic silver medal in the F56 category after a season's best effort of 42.22m. Besides him, para-shuttlers Thulasimathi Murugesan (SU5) and Suhas Yathiraj (SL4), who had won a silver in Tokyo as well, too finished second in their respective events. Another para-shuttler Manisha Ramadass (SU5) won the bronze.

Krishnan Pathak will be India's main goalkeeper post PR Sreejesh retirement

Pathak keen on implementing his learnings in ACT

KALYANI MANGALE @ Chennai

INDIA'S goalkeeper Krishan Pathak has watched plenty of Hockey from the sidelines, especially in the Olympics. However, he has no regrets about just watching because he got the front seat to learn from one of the best goalkeepers the game has ever seen, PR Sreejesh. Pathak witnessed India win two back-to-back bronze medals in the Olympics as one of the reserve players, now, with the Asian Champions Trophy starting soon, the 27-year-old has the opportunity to implement everything he learned from his great predecessor.

"They were all playing for Sree bhai, knowing this was his last Olympics for India," Pathak told this daily. "We wanted to farewell him with a medal, so the medal was another celebration. I know he was always the senior player for me, but I do share a special bond with him. When I met or talked with him, I never felt like a junior player. He was the one who would explain everything in his way whether we had done something well or even made mistakes. Whenever he put his gear on for the country he gave his 100% best and I want to carry the same thing forward with other goalkeepers. Whether it is a practice session or any match. I have learned to value time off the field and appreciate his sense of discipline," Pathak reminisced.

Since his debut in 2018, Pathak has donned his goalkeeping kit more than 100 times. With the retirement of Sreejesh, he does have big shoes to fill, but all these years have prepared him to be ready whenever he is needed. He did not get many opportunities to start with and that has not affected the enthusiasm to take up the bigger role. "I believe my journey in hockey has been exceptional. When you share a field with a senior player like Sree Bhai, it ends up being a proud moment for you as a player. I had been watching the senior team for years before I made my debut. Not many have shared the goalkeeping duties for half the duration of the match with him. So I always keep that in mind. I often think that I must have some amount of talent and ability in me to share those duties alongside him. I did not get many chances in the senior team when I started in 2018, but my attitude has always been that even if I get five minutes, I want to make the most of my chances. I got to learn from the best in the business, I want to implement it now in my game," Pathak mentioned.

Now, with the ACT in China approaching faster, India aims to defend the title they won in Chennai last year. This will be the first big tournament for this group after Sreejesh's retirement and a new chapter is about to begin for Pathak. "The message from coach is clear that we are going to defend our title and our mindset is that."

Real Madrid's Kylian Mbappe celebrates after scoring against Real Betis | AFP

Mbappe's first goals in La Liga help Real win

AGENCIES @ Madrid

KYLIAN Mbappe answered his critics in style as he netted his first La Liga goals to give Real Madrid a 2-0 win over Real Betis at the Santiago Bernabeu on Sunday which sends them second in the table.

Since scoring in the UEFA Super Cup against Atalanta, new signing Mbappe had failed to find the back of the net in Madrid's opening three games in La Liga, prompting criticism in the Spanish press.

Mbappe was made to wait for his goals as he squandered a series of chances, finally finding the back of the net in the 67th minute, sweeping the ball past the Betis goalkeeper with his left foot after a well-timed backheel from Fede Valverde.

Eight minutes later the France captain added a second from the penalty spot and was cheered off the field when he was replaced by Luka Modric in the 84th minute. "It's a great moment," Mbappe told Spanish television after the match. "I was really hoping to score at the Bernabeu, in this mythical stadium, the best in the world. But the most important thing was to win.

"After the match against Las Palmas, we knew we had to win. And that's what we did today, in a difficult match. But we're Real, and in the end we win, and with style."

The smile on Mbappe's face was in contrast to the concern that had been shown since scoring his first goal and winning his first trophy in Warsaw on August 14. On Saturday, coach Carlo Ancelotti had hit back at the criticism, insisting that his star recruit was settling in well and he reasserted at the press conference after the match that "we never put Mbappe under pressure to score goals".

Madrid's win takes them second in the table with eight points, four behind early leaders Barcelona who eviscerated Real Valladolid 7-0 on Saturday to make it four wins from four in La Liga under new coach Hansi Flick.

Gauff joins exit of US Open superstars as Zheng shines in record late show

AGENCIES @ New York

COCO Gauff joined Novak Djokovic and Carlos Alcaraz on the US Open scrap-heap Sunday as the defending champion crashed out to Emma Navarro in a blizzard of mistakes as China's Zheng Qinwen won a record-setting 2:15 a.m. finish.

As Gauff exited, US chances were then rekindled when Frances Tiafoe and Taylor Fritz reached the men's last-eight. Third-ranked Gauff slumped to a 6-3, 4-6, 6-3 fourth-round defeat to her fellow American on the back of 19 double faults and 60 unforced errors.

"I lost in the first round the last two years and now to be making the quarter-finals is pretty insane," said Navarro, who will face Spain's Paula Badosa for a place in the semi-finals. "I gave it my all," said Gauff. "Obviously there were things execution-wise, where I was like, I wish I could serve better. I think if I did that, it would have been a different story." Navarro had defeated Gauff at Wimbledon in July.

Zheng reached the quarter-finals for a second time with victory over Donna Vekic in a record late finish for a women's match. Seventh-seed Zheng won 7-6 (7/2), 4-6, 6-2 against her 24th-ranked Croatian opponent who she also defeated in the Paris Olympics final four weeks ago.

Bopanna-Ebden ousted

India's challenge in the men's doubles event of the US Open ended with the defeat of Rohan Bopanna and his Australian partner Matthew Ebden in the third round. The second-seeded Bopanna-Ebden pair lost 1-6 5-7 to the 16th seed Argentine combo of Maximo Gonzalez and Andres Molteni in 66 minutes on Sunday night. Bopanna's challenge is still alive in the mixed doubles event with Indonesian partner Aldila Sutjiadi.

Athletics: Nithin, Ancy walk away with awards

AGENCIES @ Bengaluru

SERVICES' experienced long jumper Ancy Sojan won gold with a personal best effort of 6.71m to walk away with the best female athlete award on the concluding day of National Open Championships here on Monday. The 23-year-old Ancy missed legendary Anju Bobby George's meet record of 6.74m set in 2002. 'The gold winning performance of 6.71m will be a good benchmark to prepare for the 2025 season,' she said.

Tamil Nadu's Nithin cinched 200m gold with a meet record time of 20.66 s to be named best male athlete. Asian Games medallist Vithya Ramraj also erased the long standing women's 400m hurdles meet record. She crossed the finish line at 56.23 s which was better than the previous meet record of 56.80 s set by legendary sprinter PT Usha in 1985. The men's trophy went to Services (137 points) while Railways (201 points) took the women's team title. Railways were also declared overall champions with 318 points. RESULTS: Women: 200m: Nithya Gandhe (Railways) 23.51 s, Srabani Nanda (Odisha) 23.83 s, Nancy (Haryana) 23.84 s. 800m: Chanda (Railways) 2:01.16 s, Twinkle (Punjab) 2:03.59 s, Gugu Kaur (Punjab) 2:04.77 s. 10,000m: Seema (Himachal Pradesh) 33:56.86 s, Sonika (Railways) 34:50.57, Kavita Yadav (Uttar Pradesh) 35:10.77. 400m hurdles: Vithya Ramraj (Railways) 56.23 sec MR, Sinchal (Railways) 57.60 s, Prajna (Karnataka) 57.90 s. 3,000m steeplechase: Rebi Pal (Railways) 10:21.28, Komal Jagadale (Railways) 10:26.34, Susmita Tigga (Odisha) 10:43.52 Hammer throw: Harshita Sehrawat (Delhi) 61.04m, Tanya Chaudhary (Uttar Pradesh) 60.18m, Anmol Kaur (Punjab) 58.82m. Long jump: Ancy Sojan (Services) 6.71m, Karthika Gothandapani (Railways) 6.29m, Bhavani Yadav (Railways) 6.25m. Sharath Kamal opens up on anxiety before Olympics opening ceremony

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@Chennai

"HOW do I fix my hair?" "Do I have to iron my ceremonial dress?" "How do I hold the flag?" "Which way do I look to face the cameras?" "What will happen if I fall into the Seine, will I be able to swim?"

These were some of the questions that kept A Sharath Kamal up the night before the Opening ceremony of the Paris Olympics. It was, in theory, going to be the ultimate recognition of the 20+ years of Sharath's ceiling-shattering career. Yet, the 42-year-old, no stranger to the bright lights of the Opening Ceremony during the Olympics, was overcome with 'excitement but also anxiety because of the small things', he tells this daily on the sidelines of the ongoing Ultimate Table Tennis (UTT) event in Chennai. The anxiety levels ratcheted up a few levels when "lots of international journalists asked me 'if you knew how to swim because what if you fall off the boat?' And I was like, 'it's not going to be that dangerous, no?'"

This excitement and anxiety, Sharath says, contributed somewhat to the first-round loss in the singles event. "Focus on the singles match wavered a little bit because it was close (to the OC). I wasn't able to balance both..."

He isn't using that as an excuse but points out that 'it's a lot of mixed emotions, you want to prepare for the match but, at the same time, you are happy because you are getting the ultimate honour of being the flag-bearer, you want to be there in the moment and enjoy'. If he's given the chance to redo the whole thing, the multiple-time Commonwealth Games and Asian Games medallist would like to change a few things. "In hindsight, I should have done something else," the five-time Olympian says. "I had prepared well for the match (and the tournament). I was very happy with the preparations. I thought it would flow by, but it didn't. Probably the next day (his first-round match against Deni Kozul was on the 28th and he wasn't done till the wee hours on 27th), I should have played a few practice matches to just get back (into rhythm)." But he doesn't regret the night of the 26th even if the ending 'was a bit tough' thanks to all the rain. "It was a memorable experience and I'm truly grateful."

When it was revealed to him that he would be one of the two flag-bearers, his first reaction was 'stop bullshitting me'. "I thought somebody was playing a prank on me," he tells. "There are so many other athletes… it took time for me to process."

After processing the result of the singles match, he resembled his fighting self when he faced China's Fan Zhendong — one of the hardest assignments in all of the elite table tennis in the team event — in the team event. He won a game off the Paris singles gold-medallist. "I was happy with what I played in that match."

It's almost a month removed from that match. As talk eventually shifts to Sharath's future, the man who built Indian table tennis' house in the 21st century starts talking about his past, present as well as future. "I have gone beyond my wildest expectations," he says. "There was a question to me in 2004 when I was a teen. 'How do you popularise this sport?' I said 'it needed superstars for it to be popular and I hope I'm one'. Looking back, I'm really happy with what I have accomplished. Never dreamt that I would play for 22 years or something, winning Commonwealth Games gold, Asian Games medals and playing some of my finest table tennis at 40… personally, the Olympic medal is missing… but, you know, winning Khel Ratna, Padma Shri… I first thought 'Arjuna would be wow'… That's what we knew."

The one immediate regret he has is the first-round singles defeat in Paris but, overall, he is happy to have gone beyond the expectations 'of my parents, of my family, of my coaches, of my federation and my country'. He plans to see out 2024 but it's a question of when beyond that.

SKY to miss first round of Duleep Trophy

MUMBAI: India batter Suryakumar Yadav will miss the opening round of the Duleep Trophy starting on September 5 due to an injury to his hand which he sustained last week. The right-handed Suryakumar, who played in the final outing for Mumbai in the Buchi Babu Tournament against TNCA XI, had missed the last day's play of the contest due to the injury as he did not come out to bat.

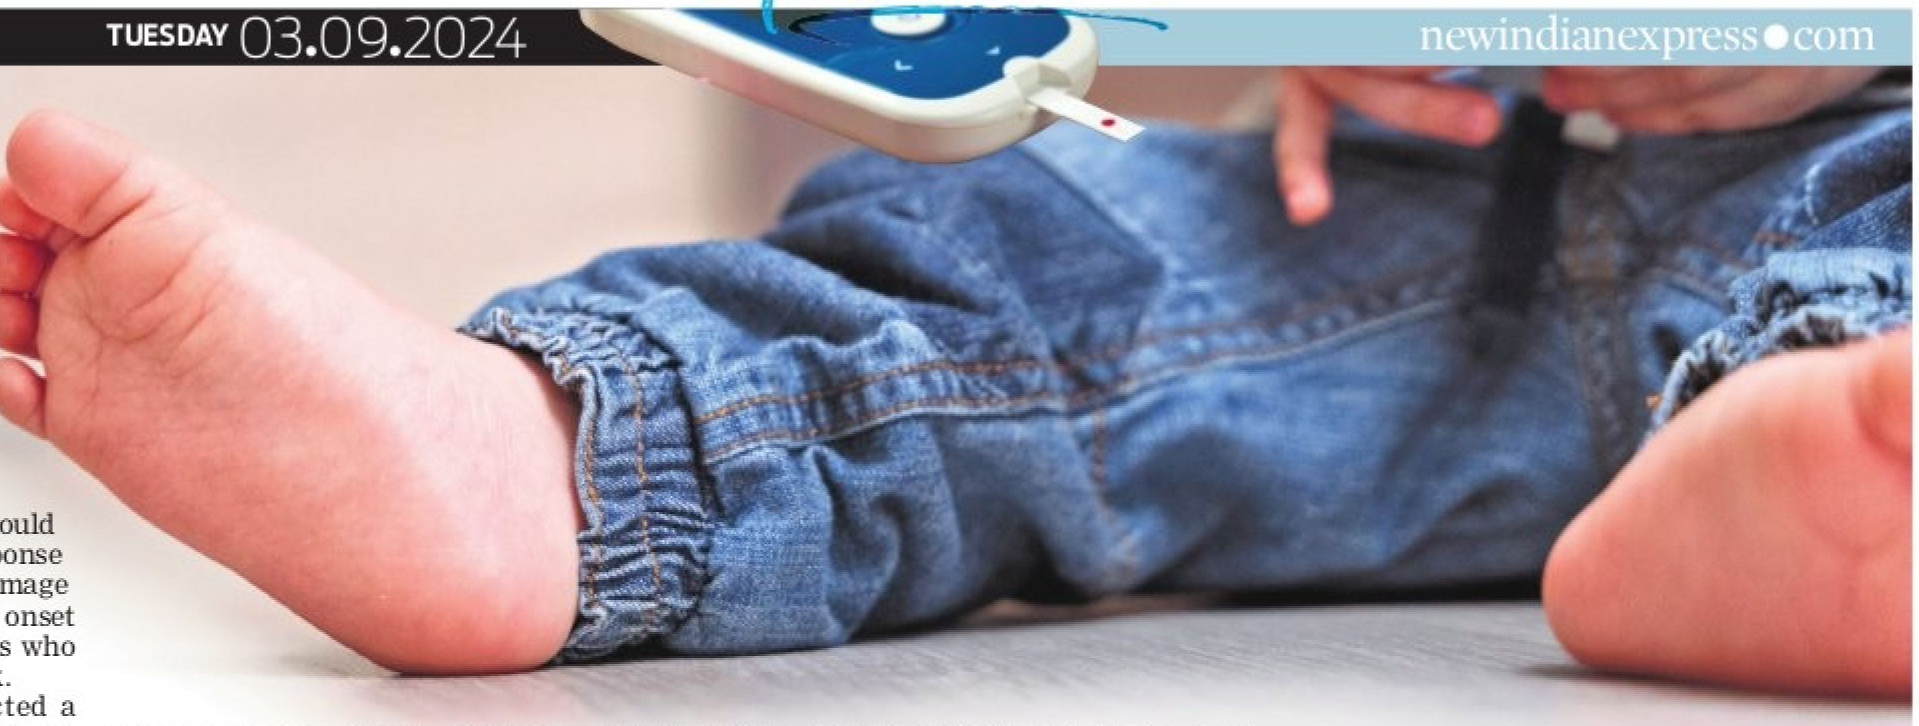
Type 1 diabetes is an autoimmune disease that occurs when the body's immune system damages the pancreas' insulin-producing cells. It often begins in childhood and was previously known as juvenile-onset diabetes



IS COVID-19 TRIGGERING TYPE-1 DIABETES IN CHILDREN?

BY KAVITA BAJELI-DATT

A RECENT report in Journal of the American Medical Association (JAMA) suggests that children who are at high risk for type-1 diabetes and have not yet shown symptoms may be more likely to develop the chronic disease after contracting Covid-19.

The findings indicate that the virus could potentially trigger an autoimmune response targeting the pancreas and causing damage to beta cells, ultimately leading to the onset of type-1 diabetes (T1D) in individuals who were not previously considered at risk.

Researchers in Germany conducted a study that followed 509 children from February 2015 to October 2023. The study focused on children between the ages of 1-16 with multiple islet autoantibodies. These proteins are known to attack and harm the cells in the pancreas that produce insulin, eventually leading to type-1 diabetes. Islet autoantibodies can be detected in the blood long before any symptoms of diabetes appear, making them powerful indicators of the likelihood of developing type-1 diabetes.

Before the pandemic, the diagnosis rate for diabetes in children was 6.4 cases per 100 children per year. This rate did not show a significant increase when the study participants were not infected with the Covid-19 virus. However, among the 236 children who did contract Covid-19, the rate of transitioning to a clinical diagnosis of diabetes more than doubled, reaching 14 cases per 100 children per year.

The researchers emphasised the need for additional studies to investigate whether Covid-19 hastens the development of type-1 diabetes in adults and whether individuals with presymptomatic T1D should be vaccinated and monitored for Covid-19 symptoms. This is particularly concerning for India, known as the diabetes capital of the world, where experts have reported a 40% rise in childhood diabetes cases in 2019 compared to the 1990s.

Concurring with the findings, Dr Amrita Ghosh, consultant at Fortis C-Doc Hospital in Delhi, said emerging research indicates a potential link between Covid-19 infection and an increased risk of developing type-1 diabetes, particularly in children and young adults.

Insulin production affected

High blood sugar, also known as diabetes, is often referred to as 'silent killer' because it can be asymptomatic in the early stages, or the symptoms may go unnoticed. This condition occurs when the body either cannot produce enough insulin or cannot utilise the insulin it produces effectively.

Unfortunately, there is no permanent cure for one of the most prevalent lifestyle diseases, which can potentially result in severe damage to vital organs, including the heart, blood vessels, eyes, kidneys, and nerves. While type-2 diabetes is the most common, and typically affects adults, experts in India are increasingly concerned about type-1 diabetes, earlier referred to as juvenile diabetes.

Insulin-dependent diabetes, also known as type-1 diabetes, is a chronic autoimmune disorder in which the pancreas produces little to no insulin. Insulin is a hormone that allows sugar (glucose) to enter the body's cells for energy production. While T1D typically manifests in childhood or adolescence, it can also develop in adults.

Type-1 diabetes can be attributed to various factors, including genetics and certain viruses. According to the Indian Council of Medical Research (ICMR), in 2022, about 95,600 children under the age of 14 in India are affected by T1D.

Rise in cases among kids

"Studies suggest that Covid-19 may act as a viral trigger for autoimmune responses, leading to the destruction of insulin-producing cells in genetically predisposed individuals. An increase in new-onset type-1 diabetes cases has been observed post-infection, raising concerns about the long-term impact of Covid-19 on autoimmune conditions," he said.

According to Dr Dheeraj Kapoor, chief of endocrinology at Artemis Hospitals in Gurgaon, researches around the world have raised concerns about a notable increase in the risk of T1D in children following Covid-19 infection.

The JAMA findings indicate that children who have had Covid-19 are 16% more likely to develop type-1 diabetes within six months to a year after the infection, compared to levels before the pandemic. "This worrying connection is expected due to the virus's autoimmune response, which could potentially harm the insulin-producing cells in the pancreas," he added. Dr Aasim Maldar, consultant, endocrinologist and diabetologist, PD Hinduja Hospital and Medical Research Centre in Mumbai, has noted a gradual increase in the incidence of diabetes among children in India. He mentioned that it's challenging to determine whether there has been a rise in the absolute number of children with new diagnoses of type-1 diabetes after the Covid-19 pandemic, as there is no published study in India on the matter. However, he pointed out several possible reasons for the increasing number of type-1 diabetes cases.

"Analysis of large healthcare service data sets from many western countries has shown a substantial increase in type-1 diabetes after the Covid-19 pandemic. There could be a direct effect of SARS-CoV2 virus on the development of type-1 diabetes (like enteroviruses, cytomegalovirus, and rubella virus have previously shown to be associated with the development of T1D)," he said.

Dr Maldar also mentioned that SARS-Cov2 infection could potentially change the composition of microorganisms in our stomachs and intestines, known as the 'gut microbiome'. This shift may lead to an increase in unfavourable organisms at the expense of beneficial ones. The alteration in the microbiome has been linked to the development of various chronic conditions, such as diabetes, obesity, and heart diseases.

Lack of exposure to antigens

The increase in diabetes diagnoses may also be due to a surge in catching up on missed diagnoses during the Covid-19 pandemic. As attention shifts to chronic diseases, more people seek medical advice for non-urgent symptoms unrelated to respiratory issues.

"Exposure to common infections in childhood has shown to be protective against autoimmune diseases like type-1 diabetes, and this shielding may render children more susceptible to autoimmune diseases," he said, adding that during the pandemic parents adapted a highly protective environment for their children, which prevented them from getting exposed to various antigens or factors which actually help boost immunity.

Dr V Mohan, chairman of the Madras Diabetes Research Foundation (MDRF), said that while numerous articles and research studies have indicated a rise in childhood T1D during the Cocid-19 pandemic, the exact reason for this increase is unknown.

"Initial studies suggested that there could be a direct effect of the Covid-19 on pancreatic beta cell producing damage. However, despite many studies being done and several postmortem examinations also being conducted in children who unfortunately died due to Covid-19 infection, direct demonstration of the presence of the virus inside the pancreatic beta cells have been shown only in a couple of cases. It appears that the direct toxicity of the virus affecting the pancreatic beta cells and causing diabetes would be a rather uncommon cause of T1D," Dr Mohan said.

It is also possible that the stress stemming from the Covid-19 pandemic, the effects of the lockdown, the potential increase in obesity, and reduced physical activity may have also served as triggers, he added.

Stay vigilant

Currently there is no cure for this condition, although some innovative experimental treatments are being explored. The focus is to effectively manage blood sugar levels through insulin, dietary adjustments, and lifestyle changes to prevent potential complications. Dr Ghosh recommends close monitoring of individuals, particularly children, who have recovered from Covid-19.

Given the global rise in pediatric Covid-19 cases, Dr Kapoor said early detection and intervention are crucial in managing T1D. "The potential increase in T1D cases emphasises the need for continued vigilance and possibly even revised guidelines for post-covid care in pediatric patients," he added.

Dr Maldar emphasised the importance of regular health check-ups, staying vigilant for any symptoms, promptly seeking advice from a family doctor for any health concerns, maintaining a nutritious diet and healthy lifestyle, engaging in regular exercise, managing weight, and effectively dealing with stress as crucial preventive measures for individuals.

SYMPTOMS TO WATCH OUT

● Abnormal thirst ● Fluid loss (dehydration) ● Frequent urination ● Extreme hunger but weight loss ● Loss of appetite in young children ● Blurred vision ● Nausea and vomiting ● Belly pain ● Fatigue ● Irritability and mood changes ● Severe diaper rash that does get better with treatment ● Fruity breath and fast breathing ● Yeast infection in girls ● High levels of glucose in the blood and urine when tested

TREATMENT

Children with type-1 diabetes must take insulin to keep their blood glucose level within normal range

Insulin administered by injection or insulin pump

Eat the right food to manage blood glucose levels, including timing meals and counting carbohydrates

Exercise to lower blood sugar

Regular blood tests to check blood-glucose level

Regular urine testing to check ketone level

DAY'S DIARY

Treaty of Paris

In 1783, three treaties were signed — between Britain and the US in Paris, and Britain and France and Spain — concluding the American Revolution

NEGOTIATIONS

Two crucial provisions of the treaty were British recognition of US independence and the delineation of boundaries that would allow for American western expansion

AGREEMENT

After two months, British accepted American independence, surrendered Tobago and Senegal to France, and Spain retained Minorca and East and West Florida

CONSEQUENCES

The US benefitted the most among the treaty's signatories. Britain lost its American colonies, and France's victory triggered French Revolution

Following the release of the Hema Committee report that shook Malayalam cinema, industry insiders from across South India, including actor Sruthi Hariharan, speak on the report and the unsettling silence in other South Indian film industries

VIGNESH MADHU

THE sky is full of mysteries; with the twinkling stars and the beautiful moon. But scientific investigation revealed that stars do not twinkle nor does the moon look beautiful. The study, therefore, cautions: 'Do not trust what you see, even salt looks like sugar!'

These are the opening lines of the Hema Committee report, which details the issues women face in the Malayalam film industry. The report says the "glamour of the industry is just an exterior glitter, but hovering over it are dark clouds of distress and agony, kept hidden from the outer world."

The three-member committee, comprising chairperson K Hema, a retired justice, veteran actor T Sarada, and retired IAS officer KB Valsalakumari, revealed disturbing details in the report, parts of which have not yet been disclosed. Following the report's release on Aug 19, several women have come out with shocking allegations of sexual assault and misconduct against the industry's bigwigs. Some of the accused, who held powerful positions in various film bodies, have now been forced to resign. Owing to pressure from all corners, Mohanlal also quit the president post of the Association of Malayalam Movie Artistes (AMMA), and along with him all the other 16 executive committee members. The joint resignation has been called as an act of 'cowardice.'

The rise of WCC

It all started on that fateful night in February 2017 when a prominent female actor was abducted and sexually assaulted in a moving car in Kochi, the home of Malayalam cinema. The incident triggered widespread outrage, leading to the arrest of actor Dileep for allegedly hiring men to execute the crime at his behest. A section of women from the industry came together to form the Women in Cinema Collective (WCC), upon whose insistence the Kerala government formed the Hema Committee. The WCC demanded appropriate measures to ensure justice for the industry women for various reasons: gender bias, absence of an internal complaints cell, no mechanism to prevent sexual harassment, lack of safety and security at the workplace, etc.

Strength in numbers

Playback singer and voice artist Chinmayi Sripada, one of the loudest voices from Indian cinema to fight for women's rights, says she is 'borderline jealous of the women in WCC' as she wishes for similar support from the Tamil industry. "These women epitomised the true sense of sisterhood and fraternity. Despite the years of name-calling and denial of opportunities, they stuck together," says Sripada, who called out lyricist Vairamuthu for sexual harassment during the first MeToo movement in 2018.

Actor Gayathrie Shankar, who predominantly works in Tamil cinema, is upset with the lack of support for the likes of Sripada from within the industry. "Back then, there was no solidarity like what we see in Malayalam industry today. Extreme unfair treatment was meted out to people like her and Sri Reddy, which scared everyone into silence. I'm also part of the problem, so I can't blame anyone," she adds.

The Hema Committee's action

The committee was officially formed in May 2017 and over the next two years, the members spoke to hundreds of industry insiders, after assuring them of absolute confidentiality. Harrowing accounts of sexual harassment and various other kinds of exploitation were heard and verified. The report was submitted in 2019. Despite allegations about the government concealing the report, many have welcomed the decision to eventually release the report and form a Special Investigation Team to probe the allegations. "It's the first such study in India and the findings are shocking and need thorough investigation. Moreover, this report is not just for Malayalam. It's relevant across languages," stresses veteran actor Urvashi.

Apart from a few scattered responses about the report's findings, there has been a strange silence from non-Malayalam industries. National-award-winning Kannada actor Sruthi Hariharan, who has been bearing the brunt of accusing actor Arjun Sarja of sexual misconduct, feels other industries are quietly observing the developments following the release of the report. "Beyond the findings, I'm more interested in how the committee's recommendations will be executed. If that can be employed across all film industries, it'll be fantastic," feels Hariharan.

'My job ends after the shooting of a film'

Veteran theatre and film actor Kumud Mishra on his role in the film IC 814: The Kandahar Hijack and the instrumental time he spent in Karnataka

MONIKA MONALISA

IF you ever have the chance to listen to actor Kumud Mishra speak, it might inspire you to slow down on the hustle. The actor has a long-standing connection with Karnataka that not many are aware of. He studied at the Belgaum Military School and used to visit Bengaluru for the NCC parade. "The foundation of my theatre comes from here," he shares.

Stills from the show

The 49-year-old actor – whose film IC 814: The Kandahar Hijack, a crime-thriller mini-series directed by Anubhav Sinha, was released on 29th August – was recently in the city for his play at Ranga Shankara.

In the series, which features a stellar cast, Mishra portrays the role of Ranjan Mishra, Joint Secretary of RAW. The actor remembers being in awe of his co-stars. "Being in the same room as Pankaj, Naseer bhai [Naseeruddin Shah], Aditya Srivastava, Kanwaljit Singh, Manoj Pahwa, and Sushant Singh was a whole new experience. It was a great learning experience," he says.

A veteran of over three decades, Mishra has witnessed the evolution of the film industry first hand. While he continues to adapt, he is still adjusting to the concept of film promotions. "I am not comfortable with the promotion business. My job ends after the shooting of a film. I feel embarrassed about promoting my work because, in the end, people watch films based on their quality. They won't come just because of the promotion," says Mishra. He adds, "There was a time when films succeeded because of the promotional factor. I feel that was a better time. There was something for the audience to discover."

Mishra's reputation as an actor is evident when a director like Imtiaz Ali openly appreciates and admires him. Mishra modestly accepts the compliment but does not dwell on it. "A good actor is not always able to deliver in every role. Sometimes you fail; sometimes you cannot capture the right character pitch," he says. He continues, "Many of us, after graduating from drama school, believe we have become actors, but I think it is only after 10-15 years of working in the field that you start to understand the process. It is an ever-evolving journey."

It is common for many actors to return to the theatre to hone their acting skills. "As a stage actor, it helps me challenge myself. The theatre is the best place to fail and try again. In cinema, failure is difficult because so much is at stake," he says before heading back to the green room to prepare for his show.

THIS DOCUMENTARY SERIES EXPLORES THE OFT-IGNORED HISTORY OF INDIAN MOTORSPORTS FROM THE END OF WORLD WAR II TO THE PRESENT

EXPRESS FEATURES

IT'S been nearly a decade since an Indian team generated significant interest and excitement in the country with its extraordinary performances in Formula 1. It's been even longer since a driver of Indian origin competed for a team in the series. Yet, in recent years, there has been a growing interest in motorsports among Indians, with grassroots racing maturing into a sustainable force that routinely produces promising talent to represent the country on the global stage. While these developments may seem novel in a country often singularly focused on cricket, India has a long history in motorsport. The new documentary Breaking the Barriers: India's Race to Glory delves into the country's deep-rooted connection with motorsports.

The documentary is the brainchild of Sujith Aradhya, a motorsport enthusiast and father of racer Yash Aradhya. "Whenever I accompanied Yash to various racing tracks in India and abroad, I found myself asking many questions about the history and evolution of motorsport in India and whether it offered a viable career path. However, when I tried to find answers, I realised that there was very little information available – most people could only share their own limited experiences," he says. "During a trip to Europe, someone even asked, 'Oh, you guys race in India?'"

Inspired by documentaries on F1 world champions Ayrton Senna and Michael Schumacher that he watched during the COVID-19 lockdown, Aradhya decided to use his two decades of experience in advertising to create a similar docuseries on Indian motorsport heroes. After more than a year and a half of research, Aradhya enlisted the help of seasoned motoring journalists Gautam Sen and Bob Rupani to craft stories of pioneering racers, forming the backbone of Breaking the Barriers.

The series, spanning four seasons, traces the evolution of Indian motorsports from the post-World War II era to the present day. Season 1 covers the early days, from informal races in Maharajas' backyards to competitions on defunct airstrips. Season 2 highlights the rise of Indian motorsports through significant events like the Himalayan Rally, Coimbatore's emergence as a motorsports hub, the development of low-cost racing cars, and the entry of Indian racers onto the global stage. Season 3 captures the transformation post-1990, including the first Indian in Formula 1, the growth of grassroots racing, and the establishment of India's first Formula 1 track and Grand Prix. Season 4 chronicles India's increasing prominence in global motorsports, covering the achievements of Indian teams and racers, government recognition, the introduction of league formats, and the arrival of Formula E and MotoGP.

For Aradhya, the goal of Breaking the Barriers is to connect Indians with their motorsports heritage. "Today, when we talk to motorsports enthusiasts in India, they mention Lewis Hamilton or Max Verstappen. Their awareness of Indian racers and motorsports is limited in comparison," he says. This documentary series, he adds, aims to change that, shedding light on the heroes who laid the groundwork for future generations. Originally conceived as an OTT series, a condensed two-and-a-half-hour version is also being screened in select theatres across the country.

Veera Vahana & Exponent Energy Announce World's First 15-minute Charging intercity Bus

Veera Vahana - a leading player in the bus industry has partnered with Exponent Energy, an energy-tech company to announce a 15-minute rapid charging long-haul intercity electric bus.

The 'Veera Mahasamrat EV' powered by Exponent is the world's first 13.5m electric bus on 2-axles. It's equipped with Exponent's 320 kWh battery pack enabling a virtually unlimited range with 15-minute rapid charging on the go via Exponent's 1MW charging network. Additionally, a battery warranty of 6,00,000 km or 3000 battery life cycles, paves the way for better financing options and ease of ownership.

Currently, the two companies are focused on electrifying the Bengaluru - Hyderabad route. To support operations, Exponent Energy will deploy four 1 MW charging stations - two at each endpoint and two along the highway - this will ensure bus operators can seamlessly shift from ICE to electric with the same experience of number of stops and downtime per stop.

HopeWorks Announces Annual BRAVE March

HopeWorks recently announced an annual BRAVE (Bold Rally for Aspiration, Vigor & Equality), a march dedicated to advancing safety and equality for women.

According to the organisers, this initiative addresses the harsh reality faced by women in the country. "The arch symbolisess s a collective outcry of "Enough!" We aim to create a world where safety and equality are not mere aspirations but fundamental rights for every woman. BRAVE is also a tribute to the courageous girls of HopeWorks who have defied societal constraints and are boldly stepping into their rightful places in society.," the organisers mentioned.

DEAR LIFE

Novelist, Illustrator, Speaker

Adulting is tough. I'm juggling work stress, family responsibilities, and a breakup. I used to find solace in reading, but even that has slipped away. My life is in complete disarray. How do I get back on track?

ASK AN XPERT

Getting over a breakup can take a emotional toll, especially when compounded by work and family pressures. Understandably, you are overwhelmed. The key is to not tackle everything at once, instead take one day at a time. Start by making your work life more manageable. Talk to your boss, ask for help, and seek solutions to ease your workload. Often, families want to support us, but we fail to express our needs clearly. Explain your problems to them and ask for their support. Many people struggle to read books once their careers take off. Set an alarm on your phone and pick up a book that's easy to read and hard to put down. Do not choose books that are difficult or boring for you. Also, exercise daily, it boosts your mood and helps you regain a sense of control. Soon, this shall pass. Believe that better days are coming.

UTKATASANA ARMS FORWARD

(CHAIR POSE ARMS FORWARD)

This is a variation of Utkatasana (Chair Pose) and can be practised by students who lose balance and stability when the arms are raised. This pose helps those with tight necks and shoulders, those with breathing difficulties when the arms are raised. This asana is part of Bikram Yoga as a variation and done in a flow. With the hips moving out in this variation, it helps in strengthening the hips, taking the focus towards the lower back.

STEPS

- Stand in Tadasana (Mountain Pose), exhale, and slowly stretch your arms out in front of you in Utkatasana.
- Bend your knees, and slowly lower the hips to go in a half squat.
- Make sure that the knees do not extend beyond the foot. Sit here balancing the body while taking the arms out in front of you, parallel to the floor.
- Remain in Utkatasana Arms Forward for about four breaths or as per your convenience.
- You can also go for another round following the above instructions.
- To release the pose, exhale and slowly bring down your arms and straighten the bent knees, coming back to Tadasana.
- This pose helps to keep the hips, thighs and knees active and flexible.
- It is a great pose for the hips and with awareness, this helps to improve balance, thus building focus and self-confidence.

LIMITATIONS

- Students who have injuries to their knees, or lower back pain should avoid practising this pose.
- People suffering from arthritis, insomnia, headache or sprained ankle, must avoid this pose.
- Women on their periods, and students who have low blood pressure should avoid this asana.

BENEFITS

- This pose helps build strength in the legs and hip stability.
- Lower body, hips, abdomen, lower back, and arms are engaged and activated.
- Brings stability in the spine.
- Helps runners, paddle boarding, swimmers, and rock climbers.
- Helps control the symptoms related to arthritis and increases lung capacity.
- It can benefit kids who are involved in dancing, or sports activities.
- Strengthens and brings flexibility to the thighs.
- Helps activate the Svadisthana (Sacral) Chakra, associated with creativity and determination.
- Fosters inner acceptance and promotes focus and productivity.
- Strengthens the torso and lower back while stretching the upper back.
- Useful in toning and stabilising the knee and ankle joints.
- It is an excellent yogasana to energise the entire body.
- Gives the abdominal organs a good massage and stimulates the diaphragm and the heart.
- If you practise this asana regularly, you could lose weight on the buttocks.
- Strengthens the immune system and relieves joint and back pains.
- This pose is to be treated as a part of the warm-up routine.
- Initially, this practice should be done under the guidance of a yoga teacher.
- The strengthening of the leg muscles is essential for all forms of dance and this variation is an easy beginner level practice for them.

OPEN SPACE
Dese Gowda
Reporter/Sub-Editor
desegowda@newindianexpress.com

EIGHT years ago, I was a curious college kid obsessed with consumer tech. As I hopped from one technology news site to another, I stumbled upon an article about a debut 'flagship' smartphone from a major tech company that had previously focused entirely on software. At first glance, it seemed unimpressive – an outdated-looking device that paled in comparison to the sleek, glass-and-metal designs with edge-to-edge screens dominating the market. Yet, it had an ace up its sleeve. Despite appearing to have older-generation sensors and hardware on paper, its camera produced stunning, DSLR-esque photos. Naturally, the tech world lost its collective mind. YouTubers raved about the device, as did 'pro' photographers who, until then, had turned up their noses at the idea of taking pictures with a smartphone.

But what really caught my attention in the article wasn't the device's impressive photography capabilities; but a quote from one of the engineers behind the phone, buried deep in the text, almost as an afterthought. The engineer explained that to capture great photos with such a small sensor, they had to 'go beyond physics' and use software trickery to achieve results comparable to, or even better than, a purely hardware-based setup. The engineer went on to say that he could envision a future where smartphone software would become so advanced that sensors wouldn't be necessary at all. You could point your phone anywhere, at anything, and using data about your location, time, and countless other variables, the phone would produce an image entirely through software – without you actually taking a picture in the traditional sense! At the time, I struggled to envision such a future and dismissed it as the kind of wild idea you might come up with after one too many energy drinks. But over the last two years, as neural network-powered diffusion models have advanced beyond anyone's wildest imagination (except perhaps those oddballs in Silicon Valley), I started to think that such an idea wasn't as loony as I originally thought. Last month, I watched that same tech company unveil its latest phone model at their annual conference, and I was finally convinced.

Sure, they were supposed to be showing off all the shiny new hardware, but to nobody's surprise, the spotlight was squarely on its software capabilities – all powered by generative Artificial Intelligence. Some features were genuinely impressive, others were kind of handy, and a few were just plain idiotic. But throughout it all, I couldn't stop thinking about that article I had read years ago.

The new phone could not only take amazing pictures, but it could also add the person taking the picture to a group photo after the fact (solving the issue of needing to ask a random stranger once and for all). It could erase unsightly backgrounds (again, eliminating the need to beg random Photoshop experts on social media, only to receive rude pranks in return). It could even insert completely ridiculous yet entirely believable backgrounds. Want to turn a picture of yourself sitting at home into one where you're surfing the ocean? One tap and a few seconds, and voila. Unless you knew what to look for, you'd be hard-pressed to differentiate between the original and the not-so-original.

And these are just the tip of the iceberg. At this rate, with tech companies knowing more about us than we'd like to admit, the idea of capturing a photo without an actual camera sensor doesn't just seem possible; it looks like it's already a thing.

ECHOES OF THE PAST, VOICES OF THE PRESENT

Writer-historian Vikram Sampath, who recently announced a new fellowship through his foundation, on the need to create alternative histories and more

POOJA DAS

HUMANS have always had a unique interest in documenting their experiences – whether through emotions, behaviours, tales of kingdoms, or any other event of the past. This act of recording history is perhaps one of the most significant ways we attempt to make sense of the events that have shaped us, not merely to memorise 'which date which ruler died,' but to understand the forces that have influenced our present and continue to guide our future.

Writer-historian Vikram Sampath aims to embody this commitment through his recently-established Foundation for Indian Historical and Cultural Research (FIHCR), that has announced the first batch of eight scholars under the Sir Jadunath Sarkar Scholarship for Indian History, named in honour of one of India's most prominent historians. "I've always tried to present a different viewpoint through my work, but there's only so much one person can do," says Sampath. "The idea was to ensure that more alternative scholarship emerges in the field, particularly from our own perspective."

Sampath explains that the foundation aims to reduce reliance on translations and Western scholarship in the study of history. "Much of our history is embedded in languages like Sanskrit, Pali, Prakrit, Old Tamil, Persian, and Arabic – languages we no longer understand as Indians. Often, the translations we rely on are done by Westerners, who may have biases or simply lack context, giving us a filtered version of our history."

The fellowship is open to Indian nationals, both in India and abroad, with each scholar receiving a stipend of ₹15 lakh to produce a publishable manuscript by the end of the year. "This is the only way to build a more accurate and nuanced version of our history," asserts Sampath. He emphasises on the diversity of the fellowship's first cohort, with scholars from varied backgrounds exploring topics as wide-ranging as the histories of textbook controversies to the formation of Bengali identity from 'the Renaissance to the Communist takeover.'

The foundation will also collaborate with academic institutions to incubate long-term projects. "One such project at Nalanda University focuses on the history of Buddhism in India. The goal is to ensure a well-researched, yet accessible, narrative that appeals to both scholars and general readers," he shares. Sampath is also enthusiastic about FIHCR's outreach programmes for younger audiences. "The way history is taught in schools – rote memorisation of facts – doesn't excite anyone," he observes. Planning to create illustrated books and short animation videos, he hopes to craft an engaging narrative of Indian history for young adults.

FIHCR's scope extends beyond written history. The foundation has also integrated the Archive of Indian Music (AIM), a project Sampath initiated in 2011 to digitise and preserve vintage recordings. "Over time, we plan to expand the archive to include digital versions of various research projects we undertake. We're also exploring how technology, particularly AI, can be used to digitise and translate old manuscripts," highlights Sampath.

One of the most challenging aspects of historical research is navigating the fine line between history and politics. Sampath acknowledges the inherent difficulties, noting that history has often been manipulated to serve 'the ruler's narrative.' However, Sampath says that FIHCR 'remains committed to an apolitical approach.' "If one reads Sarkar's works on Aurangzeb or Shivaji, for example, you'll find a very matter-of-fact account based on original documents, inscriptions, and archives. Over time, contemporary politics and ideologies have led to history being retrofitted to serve present-day needs. That's where the damage occurs in Indian historiography. We're not aligning with any ideology – left, right, or centre. We're just presenting the truth as it is, with fidelity to the facts and documents," says Sampath, who is planning to release a comprehensive 900-page biography of Hyder Ali and Tipu Sultan later this year.

WHEN LOVE DIVIDES

LOVEOLOGY
Mahesh Natarajan
(The author is a counsellor with InnerSight)

THERE is a popular Instagram reel going around these days that starts with a person calling a long-term friend of theirs and starting with a simple statement: "Hey, remember this person I was dating? I am no longer dating them." Upon hearing that, the friend immediately reacts with great joy and says jubilantly, "That is such great news! That one was so wrong for you! It was such a terrible match and we were all wondering how you could even be with this one – we were all just waiting for you to break up. Everyone is going to be super thrilled that this is over for you!" At that moment, the person quite awkwardly says, "I am not dating them any longer because we just got married," and there is an "Oh no," moment which is very much the point of the reel.

It has been getting remade over and over by content creators across the globe, adapted in each iteration to the specifics of the cultural background of the content creators, with a sprinkling of very colourful language, sometimes with the whole thing being a video call, and the new spouse making a late but impactful appearance, but in every instance, it ends with all of the characters looking embarrassed, guilty, angry and a whole lot of other emotions. While the Instagram reels are edited for the greatest shares and highlight the humour and emotional drama of the situation, it hits home because the basic scenario is something many of us would have encountered.

What do we do when someone we love, loves someone we cannot love?

Among groups of friends, or even family, these situations are often very real challenges.

Shakespeare made a living writing about star-crossed lovers, whose families and friends not only disapprove of the love blossoming between the lead characters but actively sabotage the relationship, often to tragic ends. We may not have the intense rivalries that the Montagues and the Capulets had amongst our friends and family, but there are certainly intense feelings that get generated when someone we love brings into the group someone we cannot love.

Often, we try and include the new person anyway, going out of our way to be nice, to be kind, and to be a true friend, but that doesn't always work. Some of us might think we should just stay quiet and not get in between the two. If it is just that we do not 'get' what our friend sees in this person, then that's quite fine. However, at times when we know things about the chosen partner that our friend may not know, or this person has been very odd or off with us, we may just need to choose to do an intervention – getting our friend alone and share what we think, even at the risk that our friend might just get super offended and cut us off for a while, or even altogether.

Love is about taking risks, and sometimes the risk we need to take is about losing someone we love.

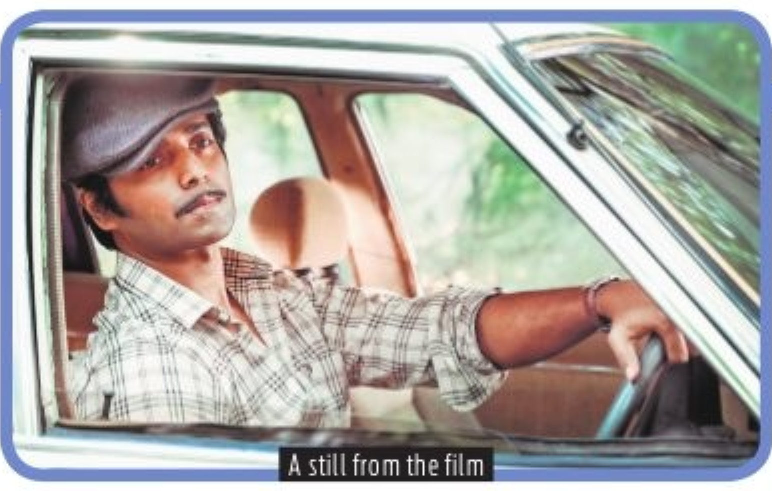
'APPRECIATION FROM RAKSHIT SHETTY FEELS LIKE A RESPONSIBILITY'

…says Vihan as he discusses his upcoming film, Ibbani Tabbida Ileyali, the importance of good writers in filmmaking and reflects on his own approach to the craft



A still from the film

A SHARADHAA

VIHAN, the model-turned-actor known for 1/4 Kg Preethi (2017) and Panchatantra (2019)—is all set to be seen in Chandrajith Belliappa's Ibbani Tabbida Ileyali, produced by Paramvah Studios. The film is scheduled to hit theatres on September 5. As Vihan reconnects with his craft after a brief hiatus, he has gained a deeper understanding of the filmmaking process. "I have realised that the first preference should always be given to writers," Vihan reflects. "I've heard some fantastic stories that didn't become successful due to lack of resources. Many talented writers struggle to find the right producers. Even with the best direction, technical team, and actors, a film can falter without strong writing. I am confident that Ibbani Tabbida Ileyali benefits from director Chandrajith's exceptional writing."

Vihan not only embraced his role as an actor but also enjoyed getting involved behind the scenes. "Being with a filmmaker and understanding the technical aspects helped me get into my role. I observed a lot, though I wasn't involved in the technical details. This process allowed me to connect more deeply with the project," he adds.

Acknowledging the influence of key figures in his career, Vihan expresses gratitude for the support he has received. "Yogaraj Bhat played a crucial role in my career, and I'm thankful that Chandrajith spotted my talent, when Avane Srimannarayana director Sachin Ravi referred me to him. I believe in destiny, and when someone spots and casts me, it indicates that they see potential in me. I am conscious of what I do," he explains. Vihan has already received praise from acclaimed filmmaker Rakshit Shetty, for his role in Ibbani..." An appreciation from Rakshit Shetty feels like a responsibility. I want to make sure the producers don't regret casting me," he states.

In Ibbani Tabbida Ileyali, a romantic drama also starring Ankita Amar and Mayuri, Chandrajith blends modern storytelling with the classic film grammar of the 90s. Vihan explains how the film's nostalgia influenced his approach. "We all grew up watching 90s films, many featuring legends like Dr Rajkumar. Embracing that nostalgia felt natural for me. However, portraying the mature aspects of my character, Siddharth Ashok, was challenging. The director wanted to portray a clear evolution of my character as he ages."

The film required Vihan to portray three distinct emotional shades, each demanding a different facet of his acting skills. "The emotional depth of the role was crucial, and I aimed for authenticity. While spontaneous acting is my go-to style, rehearsals helped me improvise my performance. Since this was the only project I had at the time, I gave it my full commitment," he concludes.

Rachita Ram

Written and directed by Anil Kumar, the film is billed to be a full-fledged entertainer

Rachita Ram onboard Zaid Khan's Cult as female lead

CE FEATURES

WE previously reported that Banaras-fame actor Zaid Khan is teaming up with Anil Kumar, the director of Upadhyaksha. The makers of the film, titled Cult, recently unveiled the first look poster, which generated considerable buzz.

The makers have now cast Rachita Ram as the film's female lead. Director Anil Kumar, who has also penned the story, is working on a full-fledged commercial entertainer, with Zaid Khan and Rachita Ram expected to bring a fresh chemistry onscreen.

Last seen in Kranti and Matinee, Rachita Ram is currently working on Sanju Weds Geetha 2, directed by Nagashekar. She is also set to be seen alongside Vijay Kumar in Jadeshaa K Hampi's upcoming film. In addition, Rachita is rumoured to make her Tamil debut with Rajinikanth's Coolie, directed by Lokesh Kanagaraj. With Cult, she adds yet another project to her list.

Produced by Loki Cinemas, Cult's technical team includes J S Wali as the cinematographer, Arjun Janya as the music director, K M Prakash as the editor, and Ravi Verma as the stunt choreographer.

Nandakumar's 1990s to be released in five languages

A still from the film

CE FEATURES

THE Kannada film industry is increasingly tapping into the pan-India market, with many films being released in multiple languages. One of the most anticipated additions to this list is the film 1990s, which marks the directorial debut of Nandakumar CM. This nostalgic romance produced by Manasu Mallige Combines is set against the backdrop of the 1990s, capturing the essence and cultural nuances of the decade. The film will feature Arun and Rani Varad in lead roles.

The teaser of 1990s was recently launched at an event in a multi-language format on Lahari Music's YouTube channel, with several notable figures, including Lahari Velu, in attendance. Nandakumar CM brings over 20 years of experience in the film industry to this project. He expressed his excitement about the film, stating, "1990s is a milestone project for me. With the shooting wrapped, the film is now in the post-production stage. We are preparing to release the film in Kannada, Telugu, Tamil, Malayalam, and Hindi."

Arun, the son of veteran film editor Janardhan, is set to make his debut in a lead role with 1990s. He shared his enthusiasm about the project: "Coming from a theatre background, transitioning to feature films is a major step for me. Nandakumar has developed a nostalgic love story, and I am thrilled to portray an innocent lover in this film. This role is a great opportunity, and I am eager for audiences to experience it."

'The onus shouldn't always be on the women'

Anasuya Bharadwaj

Gayathrie Shankar

Gouri Kishan

Santhy Balachandran

Shalini Kondepudi

CONTD FROM PG1

GOURI Kishan, an upcoming actor who has done films in Tamil, Telugu, and Malayalam, is unsurprised by the lack of any real response from other languages. "The silence does not mean that these issues are Malayalam-centric. Things look scarier in the other industries where nothing comes out," she adds.

Following the startling revelations in the Hema Committee report, there have been calls for a similar study across Indian cinema. Notably, a few women from the Telugu film industry had created a WCC-like support group named The Voice of Women in 2019. Actors Samantha, Amala Akkineni, Lakshmi Manchu, and filmmaker Nandini Reddy who are part of the said group, have urged the Telangana government to 'publish the submitted sub-committee report on sexual harassment, which can help frame government and industry policies, to establish a safe working environment for women in the TFI.' Anasuya Bharadwaj, best known for roles in Telugu films adds, "A similiar study is the need of the hour in Telugu cinema. Superstars like Chiranjeevi should speak up about it. During this recent Arshad Warsi controversy, everybody in the Telugu industry, especially the male actors rallied behind Prabhas. Is there anyone speaking about the Hema Committee?"

System's role

While most welcome a similar study in their respective industries, some remain sceptical of it ever happening. "I don't think it will ever happen in Tamil cinema," says a dejected Sripada. "The politicians are backing the perpetrators and these perpetrators are also into politics. They're not going to stab each other. What else to expect when we see the government, which claims itself to be a feminist party, and someone like Kamal Haasan continuously platforming a serial molester like Vairamuthu? As of today, 20 women have come out against him, but yet no action has been taken." Sripada proceeds to question the mindset of working with perpetrators, despite allegations raised by multiple survivors. Shankar also agrees with Sripada on preferring not to associate with perpetrators. She says, "Men who are not predators need to stand by women. The onus shouldn't always be on the women."

Who should the onus be on?

Veteran actor Sarada, one of the three members of the Hema committee, in her report, pointed out that the way women in the industry are dressed today is 'not correct.' "More than concealing, their style of dressing exposes their body parts," she observed. While her assessment has been dismissed by many as a 'generational problem,' there are still calls for women to be vigilant and speak up for their rights. Actor-politician Khusbhu Sundar, also a Member of the National Commission for Women, says it's important for women to speak up at the right time. "People might approach you with wrong intentions, but if you give in to the pressure, you're scarring your soul for life."

Shalini Kondepudi, an actor-writer from Telugu cinema, strongly believes that the responsibility of ensuring a safer industry is on the men, and not women. She adds, "Men should be the change makers, they shouldn't indulge in any problematic behaviour and also call out the ones who do."

Adjustment/Compromise

'Adjustment' and 'Compromise' are two words that probably feature the most in the 233-page Hema Committee report. They both denote the same thing: sex on demand. "Me not getting enough films despite being appreciated for my performances can be mainly attributed to me not giving in to sexual favours," says Shankar, adding, "There have been propositions, but I have certain strong principles and can't shut down my emotions. My manager once told me, 'We should pretend like giving in, only then we'll get offers.' I couldn't stand such grooming and naturally, offers dried up."

Sexism

One of the most striking observations in the Hema Committee report reads, "Hierarchical structure in cinema is such that men are the norm and women are the other, and their rights are more infringed than protected." The inequalities are evident from the glaring disparity in remuneration to allocating hotel rooms to something as flimsy as the food served. Kishan says, "Female actors are expected to report at 7.30 AM but the hero can turn up whenever he wants, be it 11 AM or 12 PM. The demarcation starts from there."

Archana Kalpathi, the producer of the upcoming Vijay-starrer GOAT, is also conscious of the existing inequalities and believes that any workplace should have an equal number of men and women to foster a healthy environment. "While we often say that women are equal to men, the reality is that we still face significant disadvantages. We must actively work to dismantle the deep-rooted patriarchy that exists."

Recommendations

The Hema Committee report has listed a set of recommendations to make the Malayalam film industry a safer and better place to work for women. While the practicality of some of the suggestions like certification of gender justice for films and government offering financial assistance for women during delivery and child care are still being scrutinised by the stakeholders, there's a consensus on the dire need for clean toilets and 'safe' facilities to change costumes. Khusbhu Sundar, also a producer, proudly claims that she has been arranging caravans even for dancers in her sets and urges others to follow the same. But her fellow actor Radikaa, while sharing her experience on a Malayalam film's sets, revealed how she was horrified to see men enjoying nude videos of female actors secretly recorded from hidden cameras in caravans.

For a better tomorrow

Going by the Hema Committee report and the subsequent developments, it's plain as day that there's a dire need for a systemic revamp across all film industries. As actor Santhy Balachandran stresses, "Change can begin only when issues are acknowledged." She feels the Ministry of Labour should intervene, and in consultation with film bodies, draw up legally sound, standardised protocols to remedy the systemic issues the Hema Committee Report has identified." Within their limitations, Shankar and Kishan also hope to see more accountability from those in better powers. "Women speaking up has happened, now it's up to the media to ask the uncomfortable questions and for the men in the industry to step up and clean this place," states Shankar.

The film, which is adapted from Hanuru Chennappa's novel, is directed by Islahuddin

Novel-based film Anna gets a release date

CE FEATURES

IN an era where adaptations of short stories and novels are becoming less common, director Islahuddin is adapting the evocative narrative of Hanuru Chennappa's novel for the big screen with a film titled Anna.

Slated for release on September 6, this Kannada film offers an insightful look into rural life, focussing on the disappearance of a young boy during a fair and its impact on his community. Filmed in the picturesque locations of Chamarajanagar, MM Hills, and Mandya, Anna explores the crucial role of rice in rural areas and the far-reaching effects of its scarcity.

"Initially, I was not supposed to direct Anna, but circumstances led me to take on the role," says Islahuddin. "The film captures the remarkable within the ordinary, focussing on a farmer, a mother, and their community in the 1980s," the director notes. Hanuru Chennappa, the author of Anna, shares the inspiration behind the story: "I wrote Anna in 2004, inspired by my experiences in Chamarajanagar. I encountered a situation where a boy went missing for six months and returned only after his family promised to cook rice for him. This experience inspired me to explore how scarcity influences people's lives."

Produced by Basavaraju S under the Gagan Pictures banner, Anna features a talented cast including Sampath Maitreya, Bala Rajawadi, Padmasree Mahale, and Bhuvana Mysuru, with Master Nandan playing a pivotal role. The film will feature music composed by Nagensh Kandegala and cinematography by Madhu Sugata.
